HARRISBURG.

Death of Ex-Governor Geary.

THE CITY IN MOURNING.

The Body in Lie State on Wednesday.

THE FUNERAL ON THURSDAY.

HARRISBURG, February 8.—Ex-Governor John W. Geary died suddenly this morning.

Ex-Governor Geary returned here from New York last evening in apparent good health. At about nine o'clock this morning, while breakfasting with his family, and in the act of helping his little son, his head suddenly fell back. Before his wife could get to his side, and before medical aid could be summoned, he was dead. It is said that heart disease or apoplexy was the cause. The citizens are greatly excited, and much sorrow is expressed.

The death of Governor Geary was announced at an informal meeting of the House of Representatives. After a general expression of opinion it was resolved to drape the Hall in mourning in respect to the memory of the deceased. Governor Hartranft spoke very feelingly, and said that as he had been acting Governor during a portion of the present session, the same respect should be shown him as if he was Governor at the time of his death. The State Departments and Chambers of the House and Senate will be draped in mourning, and it is proposed to suspend all business in this city at the time of the funeral.

The flag on the dome of the Capitol was displayed at half-mast to-day, and the bells of the city were tolled this morning. A Governor's salute of fifteen guns, as minute guns, was fired from Capital Hill, by order of the Adjutant General, as a tribute of respect.

The family have not as yet determined on the day of the funeral, but it will take place on Wednesday or Thursday. Gov. Geary's oldest son is absent at West Point, and nothing definite will be arranged until his arrival, which will probably be to-night. Governor Hartranft will send a special message on the subject to the Legislature on Tuesday, both bodies having adjourned until that time. The funeral services will take place at the Market Square Presbyterian Church, after which the body will be taken in charge by Pilgrim Commandery Knights Templar, he having expressed such a wish previous to his death.

Governor Hartranft has issued the following announcement of the death of Gov. Geary:

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER,
HARRISBURG, PA., Feb. 8, 1873.

With profound regret the announcement is made to the people of the Commonwealth that ex-Governor John W. Geary died suddenly at his home in Harrisburg this morning. In the midst of the sadness and gloom now prevailing at the Capital, brief mention can only be made at this time of the eminent services of the deceased as a civil officer in his earlier life in California and Kansas; as a brave and distinguished officer of the army of the Mexican war and during the entire rebellion, and his faithful performances of the arduous duties of the chief executive of the State for six years. In this sudden removal of one occupying a high position in the land, and who looked forward to years of usefulness and enjoyment of rest after a long life of public service from which he so lately retired, we are again reminded that death is no respecter of persons. In respect to his memory the following orders are hereby issued:

First—Upon the receipt of this order the Adjutant-General will cause fifteen minutes guns to be fired at meridian of this day, and on the day of the funeral half-hour guns will be fired from sunrise until the moving of the procession.

Second—The Capitol buildings will be draped and the flags to be displayed at half-mast.

Third—The public offices will be suitably draped in mourning, and will be closed on the day of the funeral.

[Signed.] JOHN F. HARTRANFT, Governor.

LATER.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 9.—The funeral of Ex-Gov. Geary is announced to take place on Thursday morning next from the First Presbyterian church, on Market square. On Wednesday, at such time as the Legislature shall designate, the remains will lie in state at the Capitol. The obsequies will be under the supervision of the State authorities and the immediate charge of the Knights Templar.

THE RIVERS.

CINCINNATI, February 9.—River thirty-five feet; falling. Arrived—Mary Miller, Memphis. Weather clear, growing warmer. The ice from the Allegheny and Muskingum is expected to-morrow.

LOUISVILLE, February 9.—River rising slowly; 12 feet 6 inches in canal; 10 feet 6 inches in the chute. Clear and cold; mercury ranged 29 to 35. Arrived—Charles Bodman, Esperanza, H. C. Yeager and Potomac, Cincinnati; Alaska, New Orleans. Departed—Mary Houston, Falls, and Chas. Bodman, Falls, New Orleans; Potomac, Falls, Memphis. The Ajax, Charley Brown, J. S. McDonald, Dick Fulton No 3, and Charley McDonald took their tows safely over the Falls. They leave for below to-morrow. The Alaska is expected to ascend the Falls for Cincinnati tonight. She is seventy-seven days out from Cincinnati to New Orleans and back. The Peytonia in coming out of the head of the canal with the barges Parker and McCullem, last night, was blown partly around, and had to cut a barge loose to avoid being pulled on Weitzel's dam. The Parker lodged on the dam. The McCullem went over and lodged below, head up. A small hole was knocked into the Parker's side, but it was stopped. Being lightly loaded, she will probably be brought up to the wharf in the morning. The McCullem will be towed up to-morrow. Over one million bushels of coal were taken over the falls to-day. The levee was crowded with people nearly all day, watching the boats ascending and descending the falls.

CAIRO, February 9.—Arrived—Rover, St. Louis, noon; Lady Lee, St. Louis, 3 P. M.; W. G. Lewis, St. Louis, 4; Pauline Carroll, St. Louis, 5. Departed—Louisville, Cincinnati, 9 P. M.; Northwestern, Natchez, 9; Mary Alice, New Orleans, 1 A. M.; St. Joseph, St. Louis, 1; Capital City, Vicksburg, 2; John Gilmore, St. Louis, 6; Tyrone, Nashville, 8; Lady Lee, Red river, 7 P. M.; W. J. Lewis, Ouachita river, 8. River risen about two feet. Clear. Mercury 40. The Andy Johnson struck a snag on Price's Bend this morning, and sunk in seven feet of water. She lies straight, and it is thought can be easily raised. The Lady Lee brought her passengers, and when she left there were only two feet of water in her hold. The obstruction is thought to be the same that sunk the Belle of Shreveport last fall. The barge Eliza, loaded with grain for Hickman, capsized here last night, throwing about forty car loads into the river. The accident is said to have been caused by loading the entire cargo on deck, making her top-heavy.

EVANSVILLE, Feb. 9.—Clear and cold; mercury 23 to 40. River risen 30 inches; rising 2 inches an hour. Up—Arlington, Quickstep and Mollie Moore, 9 P. M.; Minneola, 10 A. M. Down—Tarascon, 9 P. M.; Quickstep, noon; Anna, 3 P. M.; Mary Ann and tow, 4 P. M. Business active.

MEMPHIS, February 9.—Clear and pleasant. River falling. Arrived—City of Augusta, White river; Nashville, Cincinnati. Departed—Robert Mitchell, Evansville.

UTAH.

The So-called Aggressive Policy of the President—The Mormons Getting Scared.

SALT LAKE, February 8.—The all-absorbing topic to-day is the reports of the President's so-called aggressive policy towards Utah in the transfer of troops to this vicinity. The News, a Mormon organ, is evidently much alarmed, and says if the dispatch is true, those who are faint-hearted will do well to embrace the present opportunity to get out of the way; but those who are determined, by the help of God, to endure to the end, will welcome this occasion to prove faithful, though even unto death.

The Evening Journal, Gentile, says there is terror in camp by this indication of the stern determination of the President to enforce the laws in Utah. The loyal people were never more encouraged and hopeful than now. They fully expect that Congress will apply the necessary legislation at this session.

MARINE NEWS.

PHILADELPHIA, February 8.—A letter received here gives the particulars of the sinking of the ship Tuscarora on the 9th of January. During the night the mate and six of the men jumped overboard and reached one of the boats, which contained four of the crew, who were keeping it clear of the ship. The captain refused to follow them, and with fourteen of the crew remained in the mizzen rigging. They sunk with the vessel at 11 P. M. The next morning the survivors were picked up by the British steamer Emerald and landed at Gibraltar.

NEW YORK, February 8.—Arrived: The Victoria, from Glasgow.

PORTLAND, ME., February 8.—The steamship Hibernian has arrived from Liverpool.

Railway Collision at Mount Carbon.

POTTSVILLE, PA., February 9.—The passenger train from Philadelphia, due at 9 P. M. yesterday, ran into a coal train at Mount Carbon. The engine of the passenger train and the baggage and ladies' car were thrown down an embankment. The engine was demolished, the baggage car burned, and the passenger car partially burned. The engineer was seriously injured. The fireman received severe internal injuries. Two ladies and a child in the passenger car were taken out of a window unhurt. The conductor of the coal train is blamed.

STOKES REFUSED A NEW TRIAL.

In the Stokes case Judge Boardman denied the motion for a new trial, and refused a stay of proceedings. The counsel at once proceeded to apply for a stay before Judge Davis.

FATAL SHOOTING.

Charles Hay, yesterday evening, while intoxicated, shot his wife Mary, giving her fatal injuries.

William Barker, sixteen years old, yesterday evening shot John C. Schaeffer, aged ten years, killing him instantly. Barker was teasing the boys, who presented a pointed pistol toward Schaeffer, saying, "Look out, or I'll shoot you." Barker says the shooting was accidental, as he did not think the pistol was loaded.

THE WOMEN RESOLVED.

At a meeting of the Women Suffrage Association yesterday a resolution and protest were adopted entreating the House of Representatives to defeat the bill offered by Mr. Morrill, of Utah, to disfranchise the women of that territory.

A SENSATION SUBSIDED.

The Wall street sensation about the Western Union Telegraph stock has abated, and speculators, who intended "bulling" the stock, seem to have abandoned further effort in that direction.

NEW YORK, February 9, 1873.

THE NEW FUNDED LOAN.

The Herald says: From all information accessible outside of the syndicate, who still withhold figures, it seems that the subscription to the new loan amounted to about $200,000,000, or two-thirds of the amount offered for disposal. The syndicate will probably be able to market the rest of the bonds during the interval to December, when the contract with them will expire.

The Times says: The subscriptions abroad and at home have been secured outside the six wealthy members of the syndicate, Messrs. Rothschild, Barings, Morgan, Cooke, Morton and Drexel, who, having ten months' longer time to place the remainder of the loan, we assume for granted, from their position and pride in the affair, will make the success of the negotiation certain and complete according to their contract with the Treasury.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH.

At a full meeting of the Executive Committee of the Western Union Telegraph Company, held to-day, the action of the sub-committee, consisting of the President and Hon. Horace F. Clark, in purchasing the control of the Cuba Cable Company, and of the sale of 15,000 shares of Western Union stock to provide the funds therefor, as directed by President Orton, from Chicago last week, was approved and ratified. The vote approving the purchase of the Cuba Company was unanimous, and that on the sale of Western Union stock had but one negative. The action of Mr. Orton, which was thus officially confirmed, was taken by him entirely upon his own responsibility. The purchase of the Cuba Company had been desired for over a year, and if the opportunity for consummating the arrangement had not been availed of thus promptly, the whole negotiation would have fallen through.

LECTURES BY BEECHER.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher goes west next week for the first time in twelve years. He lectures as follows: Harrisburg, Pa., February 17th; Pittsburgh, 18th; Cleveland, 19th; Cincinnati, 20th and 22d; Louisville, Ky., 21st; Indianapolis, 24th; St. Louis, 25th and 26th; Peoria, Ills., 27th; Chicago, 28th and March 3d; Milwaukee, March, 1st; Toledo, O., 4th; Ann Arbor, Mich., 5th, Detroit, 6th, and Toronto, 7th.

CORRECTION.

The report that Judge Boardman denied the motion for a stay of proceedings and a new trial in Stokes' case proves erroneous. The Judge is at Ithaca, and will not decide the motion until next week. The argument before Judge Davis to-day for a stay was according to a request of Judge Boardman himself.

EXPLOSION OF FIRE WORKS.

An explosion at the fire works manufactory of Sparks, on Dey street, this morning, seriously injured Sparks himself and a female employe. There were forty-five women employed in the works.

THE SYNDICATE.

The syndicate bankers have made a report, in which they state that they are not at liberty to give the amount of subscriptions to the new five per cent. loan of the United States.

ARREST OF A FIEND.

In Brooklyn this afternoon Michael Fox was arrested on a charge of kicking to death his son, 8 years old, because the boy refused to go for liquor without money.

GREELEY'S WILLS.

It is expected the surrogate of Westchester county will give a decision to-morrow morning in regard to the two wills made by Greeley.

DEATH OF A JOURNAL.

POLITICAL.

Report of the Missouri Senatorial Bribery Committee.

ST. LOUIS, February 8.—The Senatorial Bribery Committee at Jefferson City made a report to the House to day, in which they exonorate Senator Bogy of any attempt at bribery in the Senatorial election. They find, however, that General Dorris did try to bribe two members, but it had no bearing on the case. All the Committee signed the report except Headly, a Republican member, who will make a minority report on Wednesday next.

KANSAS ELECTION BRIBERY INVESTIGATION.

TOPEKA, February 8.—The Pomeroy investigation committee has been engaged for the past two days in taking the testimony of Senator York. He reiterates his statement that Pomeroy paid him $7,000 in consideration of a promise to vote for him for Senator. He also says only himself, B. F. Simpson, Col. Johnson, J. C. Horton, George B. Peck and George C. Croather were acquainted with the plan for exposing Pomeroy, and that Senator elect Ingalls knew nothing of it until it was developed in joint convention. He declined to make any direct charges of bribery against members of the Legislature, but made a statement to the committee on secret session, in which it was understood he gave the names of members who Pomeroy said he had bought. In referring to his intercourse with Pomeroy previous to the recent Senatorial campaign, he said he went to Washington in January, 1872, to secure the removal of the land office from Nodesha to Independence, and that he secured said removal through Pomeroy by showing him the affidavit of Warner Caton, and intimating that it might be used against him in Kansas.

CHICAGO.

Pork Packing Statistics.

CHICAGO, February 8.—Howard, White & Crowell's Commercial Bulletin to-day publishes a report of hog packing in fifteen different States to date, varying from January 15th to February 8th. The table includes fifty points in Ohio, fifty-two in Indiana, thirty-nine in Illinois, twenty-two in Iowa, fifteen in Missouri, and fourteen in Wisconsin, and embraces the principal packing points in those States. Number packed at these twenty-six points this season, 4,675,732; estimated total packing at same points for the entire season, 5,223,044, against a total last season of 4,753,974. The rate of increase over last season's packing is 72 3-100 per cent.; average increase in weight, five pounds. The average yield of lard appears to have varied little from that of last year, though the aggregate yield will be greater.

The following table gives the number packed at the principal packing points to date, with the total last season:

		Last Year.
Chicago	1,135,280	1,219,208
Cincinnati	5,900,000	656,841
St. Louis	525,000	419,000
Louisville	310,000	309,512
Milwaukee	240,435	315,000

The number packed last year at points not yet heard from this year was 124,189. The same rates of increase shown at other points will add to this number 8,969, making 133,109, which will swell the total estimated packing for the season to 5,356,202, against 4,878,163 last year.

LOUISIANA ELECTION INVESTIGATION.

The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections will report to-morrow upon so much of the Louisiana case as relates to the electoral vote, the status of the State Government not having been reached. The same committee will also endeavor on the same day to take up the case presented by the Greeley and Brown electors so-called from Arkansas.

TALK OF AN EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS—A GROWING FEELING IN FAVOR OF IT.

The question of an extra session of Congress begins to be broached among Senators and Representatives generally. A short time ago no idea whatever existed that such a step would be necessary, but recent developments respecting the difficulty of settling Credit Mobilier disclosures, the propriety of restoring a sound Government to Louisiana, and providing for the actual wants of a great interest like commerce, as well as taking the preliminary steps by agitation of settling the vexed question of cheap freights on railroads so much craved by the west just now has set aside what seemed to be the fixed opinion, and it is not improbable that Congress will continue in session during the coming spring. While there is some little agitation of the question of a new Speaker, party feeling does not run high enough now to necessitate occupying much time to settle that question, but the great questions which are now deeply interesting the country have made no advancement whatever this session, the time of both Houses having been occupied with the appropriation bills, the admission of territories as States into the Union, and debates on the subject of finance, which have resulted only in muddling that matter in the minds of all, and showing conclusively that this Congress had better let the finances alone, and that they never can agree upon any measure calculated to be of any benefit to the country. In fact, the feeling in Congress is growing stronger every day for an extra session of Congress.

THE LOSSES OF AN AMERICAN IN MEXICO.

The U. S. Court of Claims is now engaged upon the case of Alexander J. Atocha, being a suit for over $300,000 damages alleged to be suffered at the hands of the Mexican Government by reason of the claimant's expulsion from Mexico in March, 1845. Atocha, who was a naturalized citizen, went to Mexico, and becoming engaged in friendly intercourse with Santa Anna, effected loans, and carried on a general brokerage business with the Mexican Government. Upon the overthrow of Santa Anna, he was banished from Mexico. When the commission to adjudicate the claims of American citizens was formed under the Guadalope Hidalgo treaty, Atocha went before it with his claim; but it was rejected. It met with like reverses before Congress until that body by resolution ordered its consideration by the U. S. Court of Claims. The defense of the Government in this case will be to settle the point in dispute as to whether or not Atocha was not engaged in the political revolutions of 1845 in Mexico. Another point in the defence will be to ascertain the amount of his damages alleged that he sustained by expulsion from Mexico, the question arising whether he was a loser at all at the time of such banishment. Hon. Wm. Michael will open the defence on Tuesday next.

THE HORSE SHOE SHOALS ON THE DELAWARE.

An amendment will be offered to the river and harbor improvement bill when it comes up in the House, for an appropriation to remove the obstructions at Horse Shoe Shoals, on the Delaware river. The Philadelphia delegation will fight hard for its adoption, and are making every effort to that end.

CLAIMS FOR CAPTURED AND ABANDONED COTTON.

There are about one hundred and fifty captured and abandoned cotton claims on the docket of the United States Court of Claims, awaiting trial. Hon. William McMichael, Assistant Attorney General, will very soon commence taking them up, and, as the session of the present term of the court will be prolonged far into the coming summer, it is expected that a large number of them will be disposed of this session. Many claims of this character which the Government defeated, on the ground of disloyalty of the claimant, will be reopened, in accordance with the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, in the case of Klein, when a decision was rendered that the amnesty proclamation of President Johnson was an absolution. Under this decision, several opinions in claims for captured and abandoned cotton have been reversed in the United States Supreme Court. These cases in the Court of Claims will be pressed to final issue by the Government, and opinions rendered in a large number of them.

APPOINTMENTS IN THE STATE DEPARTMENT.

The Secretary of State has informed the House of Representatives, in answer to its resolution, for the names of appointees to the clerical force of the department, in 1872, under the civil service regulations, that John Davis, of Massachusetts, was the only clerk appointed during that year. He was appointed under the new civil service rules.

CANAL IMPROVEMENTS.

The House Committee on Commerce has appointed a sub-committee, consisting of Messrs. Negley, Conger and Holman, to prepare and report to the committee a succinct statement of the commercial improvements necessary for the construction of the James River and Kanawha, Atlantic and Great Western, and Niagara ship canals.

THE CALDWELL INVESTIGATION.

It seems to be the general opinion at the Capitol of those who have listened to all the evidence in the Caldwell case before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, that there is no proof of improper transactions between Senator Caldwell and members of the Kansas Legislature, while it has been most clearly shown that the investigation was originated and has been pushed by disappointed candidates in the evident hope of pecuniary profit. It is admitted that arrangements were made to reconcile rival candidates with a view to their withdrawal from the field, but such arrangements do not constitute bribery within the legal and ordinary acceptation of the term. There is no reliable evidence before the Committee that Senator Caldwell bribed, or offered to bribe, any member of the Legislature.

THE REPORT ON THE CREDIT MOBILIER.

The Credit Mobilier Investigating Committee, of which Judge Poland is Chairman, will have their report ready so that Congress will have plenty of time to take action upon it this session. The Committee are now undecided as to whether they will make any recommendations to Congress, or suggest to them the line of action that should be taken against members of Congress involved among those who took stock gratuitously in the Credit Mobilier concern. Judge Poland has thought all along that the public would be better satisfied if the Committee ascertained all the facts and gave them to the people upon which to base their verdict, and therefore he says the Committee have acted determinedly in this respect. As soon as they get all the evidence in, the Committee will have a general consultation over it, and agree upon a plan to be pursued in preparing their report. So far they have not even touched upon this question among themselves.

THE LOUISIANA REPRESENTATIVE-ELECT—THE CONTESTED ELECTION CASE.

Nothing will be done with the Louisiana contested election case of Lott against Bowman by the House Committee on Elections until the Senate Louisiana Investigating Committee in the Senate get through with the examination and make their report.

THE CUBAN CONTEST—BANKS' RESOLUTION—FALSE RUMORS AS TO THE PRESIDENT'S CONNECTION WITH IT.

The joint resolution introduced by Gen. Banks on the 3d inst., recommending the President to open communication with foreign Governments of America and Europe for devising efficient means to protect non-combatants, enforce a rigid observance of the rules of civilized warfare, encourage emancipation and promote a just and permanent peace between the people of Cuba and the Spanish court, was brought up by Gen. Banks Thursday morning, at the regular meeting of the Foreign Affairs Committee. There was not a full meeting, and no member expressed his views on the subject except Gen. Banks, who is earnestly in favor of its immediate disposition in committee, so as to get it before the House. There is some little opposition to it on the ground that it is in conflict with the Monroe doctrine, but as far as the general expression of the Committee on the resolution is concerned, nothing was developed to show it. Gen. Banks, by urging this resolution, has yielded considerably from his stand, which has all along been for the recognition of Cuba. It has been intimated that Secretary Fish had no objection to the adoption of this resolution of Gen. Banks, but on this point neither he nor the President have made any expression which would lead to such a conclusion, nor has the Administration any connection with the resolution whatever.

THE LETTER CARRIER SERVICE.

During the month of January there were 24 carriers employed at the Pittsburgh office. Postmaster J. H. Stewart's report to the Post-office Department states that 176,112 mail, 38,862 local letters, and 64,742 newspapers were delivered, and 146,209 letters and 7,894 newspapers collected. The amount paid carriers was $1,634.00.

In Allegheny City, nine carriers are employed, who delivered 73,514 mail and 10,897 local letters and 38,271 newspapers, and collected 34,590 letters and 2,561 newspapers from the boxes, being paid for the same $614.92.

MORE INVESTIGATIONS WANTED.

Defeated and disappointed politicians from all parts of the Union are here, and taking advantage of obvious necessity of investigating the situation in Louisiana, are loudly clamoring for "investigations" in States where no irregularities exist.

Senator Price, of Arkansas, for example, saw fit about a year since to desert the Republican party and join the opposition in organizing and conducting the Liberal-Democratic forces against President Grant and the party he had deserted; but much to the distinguished Senator's disappointment and mortification, Arkansas went solid for Grant, elected a Republican Governor, State officers, and a majority of the Republican candidates for the Legislature.

One of the results of the Republican victory was the election of the sterling Republican, A. W. Dorsey, to the United States Senate, in place of Senator Rice, left out in the cold.

Immediately after the election, Senator Rice made free to declare that the Liberals would meet at the Arkansas capitol to inaugurate their Governor, set their State Government in motion, and send their Presidential electors to Washington. His revolutionary programme for two State Governments was a wretched failure. The Liberal Convention called to "assist" numbered less than fifty persons all told. The legally elected members of the Legislature refused to join the revolutionary programme and quietly took their seats in the regular organization under the Republican Governor, participated in the election of Price's successor, and went into general legislation.

In face of these facts Senator Rice offered in the Senate, last Wednesday, a resolution directing the Senate to investigate the affairs of Arkansas, with a view of ascertaining if a republican form of Government existed in that State.

Precisely a parallel case would be presented, if a defeated candidate for Senator from Pennsylvania, Ohio or Indiana should offer a similar resolution to investigate either of the other States where no irregularity exists.

It is pretended that there are two sets of Presidential electors here from Arkansas, and that one investigation must be instituted to ascertain which is the true one and which the false. One word as to the facts.

The Grant and Wilson electors in Arkansas were duly elected according to law, met as was required, received their certificates of election, and sent their votes to Washington, all strictly according to law.

The Greeley and Brown candidates did not receive a majority of legal votes cast; they do not even pretend that they or any majority of them met according to law. They certainly do not claim or receive certificates of election nor do they make returns to Washington as required by law.

The pretense that it is therefore necessary to bring witnesses from Arkansas at an expense of $80,000 or so to ascertain who are the Presidential electors from that State is the merest subterfuge to enable Senator Price to make some show of justification of his course in attempting to set up a revolutionary State Government.

HOUSE COMMITTEE ON AGRICULTURE.

The following bills are now pending before the House Committee on Agriculture:

H. R. No. 3,008. Offered by Mr. Halderman, a bill to provide for the preservation and increase of timber.

H. R. No. 2,604. Mr. Hayes, a bill to regulate the control of horticultural grounds.

H. R. No. 634. Offered by Mr. J. F. Wilson, a bill to prevent cruelty to animals while in transit by railroad or other means of transportation.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR INTERNAL REVENUE OFFICERS.

Second Deputy Commissioner Rogers, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, is busily engaged in drafting the new instructions to Assessors and Assistant Assessors under the new law, and will have them prepared in a day or two.

STAMPS FOR THE BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

The estimate of the Bureau of Statistics for postage for that office during the fiscal years 1873-4, amounts to $1,380. This is a reduction of the amount of free matter which is now furnished; for it is believed that most persons desiring the reports issued by the Bureau will send postage. Of the monthly reports 3,000 are now sent by mail, but it is expected that stamps will be sent for all but one thousand.

DIAMOND.

WASHINGTON, February 8, 1873.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

On motion of Mr. Arthur, the Senate bill appropriating $39,000 for a Government building at Covington, Kentucky, was passed.

The bill to rearrange the judicial districts of Mississippi was passed.

Mr. Dawes made an appeal to take up and pass a new Boston relief bill. The bill already passed remitting duties on goods destroyed is virtually dead. It could not pass the Senate. Its friends gave it up. He now asked to report another bill from the Committee on Ways and Means.

Mr. Kerr (Indiana) objected.

The House then took up the bill reported from the Committee on Naval Affairs, for the payment to William Wheeler Hubbell, or his heirs or legal representatives, $133,333 in full satisfaction of the balance of his actual loss by damage ascertained by the Court of Claims for the use by the United States Government of several millions of his patent fuses for navy shells, rifle cannon and explosive shells, during the war, and for the transfer of his patents to the United States.

After discussion, Mr. Kerr moved to lay the bill on the table, which was negatived—yeas 59, nays 105.

Mr. Archer moved to strike one hundred thousand dollars out of the appropriation. The bill, as thus amended, appropriating $33,333, was passed.

The House then proceeded, under the special order, to the consideration of business reported from the Committee on Claims.

After passing a large number of private bills, the House, at 4:30 P. M., adjourned.

AMENDMENT TO THE SHIPPING ACT.

The shipping act was amended so as not to apply in the case of vessels bound to the British North American possessions, West India Islands, and Mexico.

ACTS SIGNED.

The President has signed the acts making appropriations for the expense of investigations in regard to the elections in Kansas, Louisiana, and Arkansas, to remove the disabilities of Wm. A. Graham, of North Carolina, and A. B. Hardcastle, of Mississippi.

RAILROAD BRIDGE AT LA CROSSE.

The Senate Committee on Postoffices were occupied this day several hours in hearing arguments in regard to the location of the proposed bridge of the Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Company across the Mississippi. Congress last year authorized this company to construct a bridge at or near La Crosse, Wis., leaving its precise location to be determined by the Secretary of War, who, on the recommendation of a board of army engineers, fixed its location at the town of La Crosse. The railroad company are dissatisfied with this location, for the reason that it obliges them to make something of a detour, and now seek legislation authorizing the bridge to be located at a point about a mile and a half above the main portion of the town. Alex. Mitchell, President, and Cottrell, attorney of the Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Company, represented its interests at the committee meeting to-day. The opposing interests were represented by J. W. Losey, attorney of the Southern Minnesota Railroad Company, and Congressmen Rusk and Dunnell, of Wisconsin and Minnesota respectively. General Weitzel, of the engineer corps, was also present, to answer questions and defend the action of the army locating board, of which he was a member. The committee took the question under consideration.

REPORT ON THE LOUISIANA ELECTORAL VOTE.

The Senate Committee on Elections completed their report on so much of the evidence as relates to the proceedings in connection with the electoral vote in Louisiana. The report is brief, merely stating the facts in the case, without any recommendation to the Senate. It will be presented on Monday. It is concurred in by all the members.

LEAGUE ISLAND.

Secretary Robeson was before the House Committee on Appropriations to-day, with representative Leonard Myers, and asked an appropriation of $500,000 for League Island.

RIVERS AND HARBORS.

The House Committee on Commerce to-day concluded the river and harbor bill. Among other things they agreed to recommend an appropriation of $225,000 for the improvement of East river, including Hell Gate, in New York, $50,000 for the Portland harbor and $75,000 for the Buffalo harbor.

MINT AND COINAGE.

Both Houses having agreed to the report of the Conference Committee on the disagreeing votes upon the mint and coinage bill, it is practically a law, and will go into effect on the 1st of April next.

SOUTHERN WAR CLAIMS.

Among the bills reported from the Committee on Claims, and passed by the House to-day, was a bill appropriating the various amounts awarded by the Southern Claims Commissioners last year, in payment for quartermaster's and commissary stores furnished by loyalists in the South during the war.

ADDITIONAL CALL FOR BONDS PROBABLE—EXTRA SESSION OF CONGRESS.

It is reported that Assistant Secretary Richardson says the indications are that an additional call for $100,000,000 will be made immediately after the one to be made on the 1st of March, making $200,000,000 in all.

There is a growing impression that there will be an extra session of Congress.

CREDIT MOBILIER.

Poland's Committee this morning held a secret session of two hours, and discussed evidence preparatory to a final report to be made in a week or ten days. They only await the return of Ames to close the examination. It was decided to send the Sergeant-at-arms for him if he is not heard from to-day. Two telegrams sent to him are unanswered. After the examination of Ames, Colfax will be allowed to offer testimony to show where the $1,200 deposited in the First National Bank came from, but the Committee expect to hear all the evidence in one day, and then close.

The Committee, at the request of Judge Hale, counsel for Colfax, directed that Ames be notified to bring his memorandum book referred to in the testimony.

The Select Committee of the Senate to consider the Credit Mobilier matter held a preliminary meeting this morning to discuss informally what is the exact scope of the duty with which they are charged, and adjourned to meet again next Monday, if it is not decided to-day, but it is considered quite certain that the sessions of the committee will be public.

WASHINGTON, February 9, 1873.

THE SECRETARYSHIP OF THE TREASURY.

With the exception of the Secretary of the Treasury, there is no probability of any immediate change in the cabinet, and this will depend on the election of Mr. Boutwell to the Senate. In such event there seems little if any doubt that Judge Richardson will be Boutwell's successor, and that the successor to Richardson had already been indicated. The President recently said, in replying to a question concerning reported cabinet changes as to other gentlemen, that he selected the members of it himself, and did not leave that duty to be performed by newspapers.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

For the north west and extending eastward over the upper lake regions and south-eastward over Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee, falling barometer, rising temperature, fresh to very brisk southerly and easterly winds, and increasing cloudiness, with possibly snow from Missouri to the northern portion of Michigan, and possibly rain south of the latter region to Missouri and the lower Ohio valley; for the Middle States, wind gradually backing to westerly and southerly, with rising temperature and generally clear weather; for New England, westerly and southwesterly winds, diminishing in force, and clear weather; for the South Atlantic States, westerly to southerly winds and clear weather; for the Gulf States east of the Mississippi easterly to southerly winds, with rising temperature and clear weather.

GOV. GEARY'S FUNERAL.

The National Council and National Executive Committee of the Union League of America will meet in Harrisburg for the purpose of participating in the funeral obsequies of the late John William Geary.

PERSONAL.

Senator Sumner's health is improving. He rode out yesterday.

Senator Cameron is still confined to his hotel.

FRANCE.

MEDICAL SCHOOL CLOSED.

PARIS, February 8.—The Government, without stating the reason why, has ordered the closing of the Medical School at Montpelier.

INTERNATIONALISM.

The Court at Lizeux has sentenced nine persons to pay fines and suffer imprisonment for affiliating with Internationalists.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COMMITTEE OF THIRTY.

PARIS, February 8.—The Committee of Thirty of the National Assembly to-day adopted and considered an amendment proposed by Haussonville providing that the Council of Ministers shall decide whether the presence of Thiers is required in the Assembly during discussions on interpellations, and the proposal of Dafairre for speedy legislation on the subjects of election for and composition of the next Assembly. The composition and powers of the Chamber and organization of the Executive during the interval between the dissolution of the present and the meeting of the next Assembly was rejected. The committee then adopted the remaining articles, and elected Duke de Broglio as its reporter. It is believed that the action of the committee will lead to a rupture between Thiers and the Assembly.

GREAT BRITAIN.

RAILWAY HORROR.

LONDON, February 8.—A collision, attended with a sad loss of life, occurred early this forenoon, on the North British Railway, near Dunbar, about twenty-five miles from Edinburgh city, between a train from that city for Berwick-on-Tweed and the Edinburgh and London Express. Nine persons were instantly killed and several severely injured, some of whom may die.

BANQUET TO AN AMERICAN.

The American Club at Liverpool entertained Lucius Fairchild, the new United States Consul in that city, to a banquet last night.

OPPOSED TO EMIGRATION TO THE UNITED STATES.

LONDON, February 8.—At a meeting of the West Country Highlanders of Glasgow last night, the Marquis of Lorne delivered an address. Speaking of the number of Scotchmen who left their country during the past year, he said he looked upon the emigration movement with regret, especially when directed toward the United States. Scotland was able to support an immense population. Laborers were scarce. If the people emigrate, he hoped they would go to one of the British colonies.

SPAIN.

CONFIDENCE IN THE MINISTRY.

MADRID, February 8.—Congress yesterday almost unanimously passed a vote of confidence in the Ministry, only two deputies voting in the negative.

THE INSURRECTION.

PARIS, February 8.—Intelligence from the north of Spain says a Carlist force was defeated by Spanish troops at Aya, but are again ready to take the field.

The commander of the Royal troops at Alsana, apprehensive of an attack, demands reinforcements.

Ally, with two thousand Carlists, defeated the Government force at Deva, in Guipuzecon, and now threatens General Urgara.

MADRID, February 8.—Five hundred Carlists under Gaballs made an attack yesterday on Viladrate, but were repulsed by the garrison, which numbered only one hundred men.

The authorities announce that the insurrection in Sargossa is completely suppressed.

King Amadeus has signed a decree for the organization of the artillery service. Several officers who oppose any change resigned.

BERNE, February 8.—The Swiss Council of State has stopped the salaries for three months of all priests who read from their pulpits unauthorized papal briefs establishing a separate Bishopric for Geneva.

The Conference at Basle determined to create a grand Swiss Bishopric of the dissidents from Rome.

The St. Croix Land Grant.

MILWAUKEE, February 8.—The Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association appointed to consider the letter of James H. Howe, general manager of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, relative to the St. Croix land grant, reported in favor of a neutral policy. Angus Smith moved that the whole matter be laid over until Wednesday, and made the special order, which was carried.

THE elections for Chief Justice and Magistrates of the Supreme Court of Mexico were held yesterday (Sunday), we suppose, on the principle "the better the day the better the deed." These Mexicans are queer fellows.

THE House of Representatives at Harrisburg, has passed a resolution for the final adjournment of the Legislature, on Thursday, the 27th of March and not February, as inadvertently stated in our Harrisburg correspondence. The Senate has yet to act on the resolution.

SPEAKER BLAINE, very much to our gratification, bids fair to come out of the Credit Mobilier investigation with flying colors. Sanderson, who seems to have been industriously engaged in trying to involve him unpleasantly, is not so happy, and finds himself and his schemes very unpleasantly exposed. The investigation proper drags its slow length along, it being quite apparent that the main facts are brought to light, and that the personal squabblings of those whose testimony differs is now all that will be developed. Let the committee report.

THE Liberals and Tammany Democrats in New York seem to be industriously engaged, just now, in an effort to capture Mayor Havemeyer, and apparently with some promise of success. In response to their address, he admitted that while he had voted for Dix and Grant, "the Republican party had lost some character, intimating that its leaders in New York gambled in some way with each other. This charge deserves to be looked into, although it must be confessed that it would be a sorry change from these, even if guilty of the delinquency charged, to accept in their stead Tammany Democrats. Mr. Havemeyer's trouble with the Republican party originated in his opposition to the bill providing a new charter for the city of New York. This charter limits the power of the Mayor considerably, and is declared by Mr. Havemeyer to throw the government into the hands of rings again. The entire trouble is unfortunate, and unless the breach that seems imminent between the Mayor and the party is avoided, the old crowd of Tammany Democrats will soon be in high feather in New York again.

THE DEATH OF GEARY.

The news of the sudden and unexpected death of the late Governor of the State, who was thought to be physically one of the strongest and most robust of men, with a frame and physique indicating anything but weakness, as might be supposed, struck all with wonder, and sorrow at the same time. From the news of the distressing event already at hand, we learn that deceased exhibited no symptoms,—and it is generally believed he felt none,—warning him of his sudden, almost instantaneous death, which took place while seated at the breakfast table on Saturday morning last. The immediate cause of his death was heart disease. It is only a few days since the expiration of his second term as Governor of the Commonwealth, and it is a source of some consolation that he was spared to the close of his official career. At the time of his death he was engaged in lively conversation, when instantaneously his head dropped upon his breast, and life had sped.

> "O fatal change! become in one sad day
> A senseless corse! inanimated clay."

John White Geary was born near Mount Pleasant, Westmoreland county, in this State, December 30th, 1819, and was therefore in his fifty-fourth year at the time of his death. His ancestry was Scotch-Irish, but for several generations the people from whom he sprang were citizens of this country. Soon after marriage his parents removed from Franklin county to Westmoreland, where his father was for a time engaged in the iron business, but subsequently devoted himself to teaching. Reverses in fortune left the family poor, and from early life it became a hard struggle with the subject of this notice to mount the ladder of fame. After preparation he was entered as a student in Jefferson College, but the death of his father interrupted for a time the career thus looked forward to. He was for a time obliged, in order to support his widowed mother, to open a school, but afterwards returned to college where he graduated with honor. After this he studied engineering, and read law, being admitted to the bar, but not liking that profession he devoted himself to engineering duties. Previous to the breaking out of the war with Mexico he had been engaged on public works in Kentucky, and his native State, but with that event he began his military career, raised a company called the American Highlanders, and was subsequently, at Pittsburgh, made Lieutenant Colonel of the Second Pennsylvania regiment. His services in Mexico are generally known to our readers, and we will only state here that they were of a satisfactory and creditable character. At the close of the war he was appointed by President Polk, Postmaster of San Francisco and mail agent for the Pacific coast, a position of responsibility, requiring executive ability. This led to his election by the people to the position of the First Alcalde, although there were ten other candidates for the position. The functions of this office included the duties of Sheriff, Probate Judge, Recorder, Notary Public and Coroner, all of which he discharged faithfully and well. He was re-elected at the close of his term, and held the office until the American system superseded the Mexican. After this he was elected first Mayor of San Francisco in 1850, and President of the Finance Commission. He was instrumental in having the free State clause incorporated into the Constitution of the new State of California.

On his return to his native State, President Pierce tendered him the Governorship of Utah, but declining that, he, after much entreaty, accepted the position of Governor of the Territory of Kansas, where one Executive had already been displaced, and much excitement and bloodshed had been occasioned by the contest and bitter struggle raging between the Free State and pro-slavery Border Ruffian parties. He held this perilous position for less than one year, viz.: from July, 1856, until March, 1857, when he resigned, owing to the turbulence and violence of the embittered factions, which nothing but open war would satisfy. It was the death grip between liberty and slavery, and one or the other had to go down. No amount of sophistry or reasoning, even, would quell the fury of the contestants, and upon the inauguration of the servile tool of the slavery-loving portion of the country—James Buchanan—Geary, who favored a free State, thought it best to resign, as he had already incurred the deadly enmity of the Border Ruffian element of the population.

His subsequent history is well known to our readers; the honorable part he took in the war of the Rebellion—that outgrowth of the pro-slavery malevalence with which he had already more than once grappled; his recent career as Governor of his native State, where for six years he presided at the Executive Mansion and the State House with that urbanity and reverence for the Constitution for which he was chiefly noted—all is known, and need not be repeated. The world will join us in saying that Governor Geary was at heart a kind, good man, a tender parent, an affectionate husband, a pains-taking officer, and in all things temperate and moderate.

The death of a strong man at all times creates profound emotions in the hearts of friends and acquaintances; but this is peculiarly so with one we knew so well, and upon whom we had often looked as a grand type of the physical man. At the meridian of life, without an instant's warning, in the very bloom of health, and whilst planning for the future, with high hopes and ambitions still prompting him forward, covered with honors, John W. Geary is at last called to his final rest.

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD BILL.

The bill passed by the Legislature, and now awaiting the sanction of Governor Hartranft, authorizing the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to increase its capital stock and issue bonds, secured by mortgage on the property and franchises of the company, we find is very generally condemned by that class of citizens who give attention to the study of economic questions. This arises from no hostility to the great corporation proposed to be invested with the unlimited powers conferred by the bill, but rather from a sincere hope that in the future it may not be perverted from its legitimate functions, or thrown by the evils of reckless management on the shoals of bankruptcy. We recognize the fact that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is skillfully and honestly managed, and is the greatest existing agency of its kind in the development of the resources of the State and nation. Its powers are now stretched to their utmost tension, and in view of the great undertakings in which it is engaged in the South and West, it is very likely legislation is needed and should be granted, to strengthen its hands, and enable it to carry out a policy of railroad expansion that embraces a continent. But there should have been some limit in these grants. And in saying this nothing is implied against its existing directory. We all know how difficult it would be to supply their places by the same amount of capacity and integrity. They have grown up with the road and made it what it is. We are confident they will not abuse the powers conferred by the bill that has just passed the Legislature, but who can predict the same of those who will come after them? The race of Fisks, Goulds, Drews and Vanderbilts, who gamble with great corporations as they would with dice, is not dead, nor is it confined to any one State or locality. On the contrary, it still holds sway in our great financial centers, emboldened by past successes, and more potent than ever, just in proportion as it has grown in experience and assurance. Suppose the Pennsylvania Railroad Company under the control of these pirates, invested with power to issue unlimited stock and bonds, and we have one of the possibilities of the future created by the bill now awaiting Governor Hartranft's signature to become an irrepealable law. Of course such a perversion of this great trust is not probable, yet no one can say, with the experience of the past few years in railroad management, that it is impossible. Why not, then, make it impossible, so far as human judgment can guard against disaster, by limiting the powers conferred by the bill, both as to amount and time in which they shall be exercised? As it stands, the Railroad Company, next week, at a regular or special meeting of the stockholders, may increase its capital from the present figure of sixty-five millions of dollars to five hundred millions, and the directors may supplement this by increasing the outstanding bonds in the same amount. We do not think the approval of the stockholders is the only limitation demanded by the public interests, for the reason that a ruling junta within a railroad company is generally competent to manage the stockholders as it desires, at "a regular or special meeting."

It will not be disputed that the power to increase the capital stock and issue mortgage bonds of a railroad company, without any limit whatever, will at once weaken the securities of the company, just in proportion as the stock is watered or the debt increased. The State now holds in its sinking fund nine millions dollars Pennsylvania Railroad bonds, and therefore has a direct interest in the financial management of the company, present and prospective. We submit this fact to Governor Hartranft, who will represent the Commonwealth in acting on the bill, and is therefore brought face to face with the question whether the interests of the State do not demand that some limitation shall be placed on this extraordinary grant of power.

The manner in which this bill was rushed through the Legislature, is not calculated to impress the public favorably as to its character or purposes. In the language of the lobby, "it was set up," meaning thereby a majority had been secured for it before its introduction. No time was given to its consideration by either House, and extraordinary efforts were made to prevent publicity of its scope or purpose until it was too late for unfavorable criticism to reach Harrisburg. It was kept out of all the newspapers in the State, the day after its introduction, save the PITTSBURGH GAZETTE. This omission to publish was not accidental, but one result of the labors of the railroad lobby. A reason openly avowed for the passage of the bill is that it is necessary, because the Constitutional Convention is certain to make such legislation impossible in the future. We are happy in the belief that it will, but the reason given is of itself a strong argument—about as strong as could be cited—against the measure.

Governor Hartranft has a duty to perform in connection with this bill, which we hope will be discharged with fidelity to the people. If he can satisfy himself that it does not confer extraordinary and dangerous powers liable to fearful abuse, and that it will not affect the value of securities held by the State, he will approve it. But if not—if he views the bill as we believe a large majority of the people of the State do, as one full of danger to the people, and possible financial loss to the State, he will send it back to the Legislature, as his predecessor did a similar bill six years ago, without his approval. Then a proper bill, containing all reasonable concessions to the railroad company, can be readily passed.

THE New York Herald is full of sensational items designed to provoke a feeling of hostility in this country against Spain, on account of Cuba. One of its correspondents has been emphatically "snubbed" by the commanding officers of the Spanish forces in Cuba, and the Herald bristles all over for war. It issues the following stirring manifesto, double leaded. "We publish to-day, in a special dispatch from Palma Soriano, in the Eastern Department of Cuba, the message of the commander of the Spanish forces in that section of the island, General Morales, to the Herald Cuban Commissioner, in reply to the application of the latter gentleman for facilities to pass the Spanish lines on his mission to investigate the condition of the Cuban insurrection. The message is brief:—'You can leave Palma and go where you like, on the understanding that if the Spanish troops find you among the insurgents, or if you afterwards appear within the Spanish lines, you will be treated as a spy and shot immediately.' Our response to General Morales and to the government he represents shall be equally concise and distinct:—'If the Herald Commissioner receives any injury at your hands without violating the laws of your country you will be held to a strict accountability, and will be made to suffer the penalty of the outrage, not in the island of Cuba alone, but on every inch of soil that owes allegiance to the Spanish flag.'"

A "Hop" on Deck on the Spanish Coast.

(Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

Here we are again, all on board except three of our party who were to sail next day by another steamer of the line, touching in the following order: Lisbon, Gibralter, Genoa, Leghorn, Naples, Messina, Trieste, Venice, Messina, Palermo, Catama, resuming the American Line at Gibraltar. Yes, here we are all on board, bustling about, unpacking, and arranging our berths, chatting the meanwhile vociferously, about the incidents occurring since we last parted; then the tea came on, and a still more animated medley of gossip ensued, and lasted till late, when we had a peep on deck, found we were just passing "Paddy's Mile Stone," "Ailsa Craig" and then turned in for the night, slept like tops, and rose up in the morning just in time to get a good view of the Isle of Man; it was pretty to look at, but saw nothing about it that was particularly striking. In the afternoon we passed Holyhead, and saw the Welsh mountains, stretching on the left, while on the other side rose those of Wicklow; but it was rather raw on deck, and, moreover, we had to compare notes, of our seven days run on shore, and this kept us fully and pleasantly occupied during the two days while crossing the Bay of Biscay. Some of the party were lamenting over the dilapidated state of poor Paris, others were in raptures about the wonders of London; they had promenaded the great Crystal Palace by gaslight, listened to the giant organ, and splendid orchestra, had walked along the sombre avenues of marble tombs in Westminster Abbey, and St. Paul's, where lie the ashes of Britain's great ones; others had been to Salisbury, and looked solemn and imposing, while describing their visit to the greatest of all Druidical remains in the world, Stonehedge; but to attempt to detail the cataracts of scenes and novelties, commercial, architectural, arceological, social, and historical, that rushed on our sight as we whirled along by rail in France, Germany, or Scotland, or glided along on the Rhine, Seine or Thames, would require volumes; besides more able pens than mine have already exhausted the subject; and so, after recommending the intending traveler to be well read up in the various books of European travel before he starts, by which he will receive a keener relish from all he sees, I will turn to what more immediately lies on our route, and has been less written about. Yet, if your space permits it, you might give a place to this little item of poetry, which I was kindly allowed to copy from the scrap-book of one of our party, of Scottish descent, who had written it while perched on the high mountain peak that overlooked the pretty peaceful valley, in whose old churchyard laid the ashes of his forefathers.

SCOTIA.

Alost o'er the peak of Ben Lomond sat we,
And we gazed on the Loch like a miniature sea
With pine-skirted margin and islets of green,
While gushes of light flooded over the scene,
Where e'er the bright sun danced abroad o'er the land,
Through white clouds we almost could touch with our hand.
Aloft on the peak of Ben Lomond sat we,
And we thought not of time, tho' it rapid did flee;
But we gazed as if spell-bound, the still waters o'er,
The hamlets and villas along the green shore,
The canvas winged wand'rers that skimm'd o'er the lake,
The spray from their prows, and the waves in their wake,
And the fleecy white shadows and spots of blue sky,
That o'er the lake mirror fled silently by,
And blending with them the reflections perfect,
Of high rugged mountains, with heather bloom deck'd,
Oh Scotia! dear Scotia! we never, we trow,
Knew how our hearts loved thee, oh? never till now,
When all thy wild grandeur, and beauty is drest
In the brightest of sunlight, that flows from the west;
Yet, o'er thy wild grandeur, and beauty we sigh,
The Star-Spangled banner flaunts not in thy sky.

Aloft o'er the glens of Loch Lomond roamed we
The wild tales and legends of old history
Their flight o'er the mirror of mem'ry they take
As glides the cloud's shadows o'er Lomond's fair lake,
And soft were the words that the breeze wafted high
From the glens far beneath, and away they fly,
The bark of the collie, the bleating of lambs,
The low of the young kine, response of their dams,
The soft sigh like murmurs of distant cascades
And silvery streamlets that wound through the glades,
The turr of the moorfowl that start from the heath,
The toll of the bell from the village beneath,
The sweet Aeolian music, that thrilled thro' the sky,
Oh! twas' all like enchantment, too soon flitting by.
Oh Scotia! dear Scotia! we never, we trow,
Knew how our hearts loved thee, oh! never till now;
Yet these lovely valleys, so famous in song,
To lordlings, and not to their dwellers belong.
Thus, o'er thy wild grandeur and beauty we sigh,
The Star-Spangled banner floats not in thy sky.

There's a crag o'er Arrochar, towering and high,
You would think you could step from it, on to the sky.
Up there, on the moss lawns, how merry we rolled.
And o'er the mountains so blithely we strolled,
The sweet scented heather, we culled in its bloom;
Our bosoms to deck, and our bonnets to plume.
And sing of the "Blue Bell," and "Flower of Dunblaine,"
The night gathered near, yet we sought not the glen,
But higher and higher, we climbed up the braes
Till Leng and Loch Lomond, were seen in one gaze;
Till Sol to the peak of the Cobbler drew near,
Streamed down o'er the cliff sides a torrent so clear,
Of rich mellow light, that gave joy to behold
How it glossed the Lake waters with flashes of gold.
But melted our glances to sadness and tears,
When it flashed o'er the relics of long bygone years,
And gilded the birch, and the elms around
That dear little hammock, of hallowed ground
Aloft on whose summit so sceptre like stood,
Looking thoughtfully down on the sun painted flood,
The ivy-clad ruin of the kirk at whose shrine
Our forefathers worshipped the spirit divine,
O'er that in those moss-covered tombs were laid
That phantom-like stand in the ruins' dark shade.
Oh Scotia! dear Scotia! we never, we trow,
Knew how our hearts loved thee, oh, never till now;
And deep will the sigh be, and burning the tear,
Whenever in fancy our souls wander here,
And o'er thy wild grandeur and beauty we'll sigh,
The Star-Spangled banner floats not in thy sky.

Some parts of the Highlands are more spoken of than the region whence our poetic companion inhaled his inspiration, yet no combination of highland scenery speaks more eloquently to the heart, or impresses the spirit with such depth of emotion, as that viewed from the Cobbler and other mountains within easy reach of Arrochar Hotel, the most comfortable hotel, bye the bye, in the highlands, not owing to its size or style, but on account of the most kind, attentive and engaging manner of the host and hostess, etc.

About sunset on the second day after passing Sicily Island, we were passing Cape Camarinas; although calm, yet a tremendous high sea was rolling in from the Atlantic, and the effect it produced when stayed in its swift, majestic career, by the rugged, fierce rocks and cliffs of Camarinas, was magnificent, but especially so when the sun was near the horizon, then the haze hanging around lofty Cape Tinisterre gradually become of a rich pink tinge, as also the long line of terrific breakers and surf on its shore till the whole seemed enveloped in a rich, rosy vail, while the precipices and crags of Camerinas, momentarily stood out more and more in relief, and looked like huge, grotesquely shaped cinders of gold and copper, wreathed in gigantic garlands, and silver ferns of brilliant surf, that rose sometimes like jets from great fountains, far above the summits of the outer rocks, over three hundred feet high; all along the western sky were scattered gleaming streaks of cloud of almost every color, and from their interstices peeped pale streaks of blue sky, like miniature lakes and rivers excepting to north west, where the clouds hung in huge curls and rolls with coppery edges. The scene was indeed grand although wild, and being our first introductory glimpse of the European coast, it had thus an additional charm for us, and will take its place, in the first leaf of the album of our European reminiscences.

As night gathered over us, some chatted about the strange customs of the aborigines of this wild coast and others quoted stories of the gold and gems once so abundant in yonder valleys, where now only goat-herds and shepherds tend their flocks in the open pastures, around their little whitewashed cottages, like snow balls in the deep hollows of the Arabian mountains. During tea we had a lively reciprocation of sentimentalities regarding the wild grandeur of the scene that so rapidly passed away, and after the chit-chat meal was over, we betook ourselves to the usual recreation of music, singing till about eight bells, when the steward presented us with the Captain's compliments, and noticed that the phosphorescence was bright and worth seeing. This was good news indeed, for we all longed to see that charming phenomenon, and away we hurry-scurried on deck. The dark clouds that before clouded the land had spread to beyond the seaward horizon, the night was pitch dark, but being now good sailors, we easily groped to the upper deck, when a scene burst upon us that we can never forget. Away, astern, the wake was a long stream of pale blue flame, studded with whirling globes of blue fire; looking over the side, the vessel seemed going through a stream [illegible] waving dazzling sapphires, while from the bow on each side, rolled waves of soft light, like liquid fire, till they broke, and then gleamed like avalanches of blue diamonds, throwing aloft on the masts, rigging, and upper bridge, a glare as brilliant as if we stood in the centre of some grand display of fireworks. The smallest print could be read during the flashes when the surf broke from the bow, and even our constant attendants the sea gulls, hove in sight like aerial specters, looking so weird-like, as the gleam of the phosphorescence flickered on their glancing forms high overhead; but later in the evening we had a still greater treat. A school of porpoises surrounded us, and sniffed and plunged, and darted about in every direction, as if they were conscious of the fiendish figure they were making, and had set their blubbery minds on horrifying us, and they partly succeeded, for one of the young ladies fainted a little, and gently dropped her head, like a falling lily, on the shoulder of the good-looking young man beside her, and so remained till the finny frollickers had finished their diabolical submarine gymnastics, during which they had the semblance of long fiery serpents madly writhing and twisting, and intertwining among each other.

After this we watched for a while the beautiful beacon light on Cape Finisterre, and were somewhat amused at its going out, and re-appearing about every twenty seconds; at first we thought, some Spanish joker, in the light tower was making it wink as us, but the officers of the watch explained the matter, it was to distinguish it from the Cies Island light near Vigo, which was now in sight about thirty miles ahead, and which was passed while we were asleep, and "rocked in the cradle of the deep."

The next day we passed in sight of Oporto, it looked pretty in the distance, with the high Busaco mountains for a background. A jolly, ruby-nosed old gentleman, who joined our party at Glascow, looked long and wistfully at it as we were passing; his lips seemed rather animated, and his tongue occasionally sipped partly over them. Was the jolly old boy dreaming of the hogsheads of rich, old centenarian port, treasured in many a storehouse within sight, but alas! beyond reach? We rather think he was, by the way he went for the ship's port at dinner, which, bye the bye, was like everything else on board in the refectory line "excellent."

Sailing along the Portugese coast, there was little to enliven our promenades on deck, except occasionally, a passing steamer or sailing vessel, till we were passing between Burling Islands and the main; their appearance was desolate, but very skirting, owing to the wreaths of surf and foam formed around them by the breaking of the Atlantic billows, on their steep, weather-bronzed cliffs.

A little later, we were abreast of Cintra and had a good view of Mafra, the finest and largest building in Portugal. Ahead of us was Cape Rocca and its hundreds of windmills, crowned with turreted greyish-colored buildings, which we were told were convents. This part of the coast is very picturesque and imposing. About 2 P. M. we entered the Tagus, passed Fort St. Julien, then Belem, and finally anchored off Black Horse Square; it is so named having in its centre a bronze statue of a horse and rider Joseph I; the horse is of the Barclay & Perkins type, clumsy and ill-shaped. On one side of this square stands the most important building in the city, the Custom House, because the rapacity of its officials and the infinity of its complicated formalities stamp it so, in one's memory that you can see nothing else while you are here, but its hungry-looking myrmidons, hunting with the ferocity of famished wolves, for something to seize and confiscate, to keep to feed their starved out, empty treasury; robbery is the mildest term one can give to some of their acts of seizure. The people are in general, dirty and ugly, and every native one face meets has Portugese written over it so plain, as to need no guide to tell us, which is the native and which the visitor. In the afternoon we drove through the various streets of the town, and finished by a birds-eye view from the waterworks, but saw nothing to justify the expression in the guide-book that Lisbon is one of the finest cities in Europe; if such expression was true, he would turn back at once, but instinct alone tells us that it is not so, and the miserable attempt at a masquerade ball at San Carlo on the last night of the carnival, strengthened our hope, that Lisbon is no measure whereby to judge of European cities, and we felt quite a relief when we left the Tagus, and ploughed along past Cape Espechal, reaching Cape St. Vincent at daylight, the next morning and passing it at about one hundred yards distance. Amongst the countless promontories that jut out into the Atlantic, few are so interesting as Cape St. Vincent, stretching away out from the main like a giant causeway, or vast artificial pier, and perched on its extreme point, the crumbling ruins of an old monastery (how syriking are the positions often selected by religious fanatics for their secluded shrines); the belfry of this is almost in line with the high red precipitous cliffs, at whose feet the never ceasing, eternal voice of the waves, resounds like thunder in vast caverns, whence jets of white foam and spray spurt to a height of sometimes more than two hundred feet. After passing the cape about half a mile, we had a fine view of the undermining process of the great western waves, rushing steadily but irresistibly through the dark caverns, under the huge tottering cliffs, mass after mass of those cliffs could be seen, falling with a leaden plunge into the triumphing billows and pointing unmistakably to the early doom of the weird-looking outpost of an expiring superstition that scowled sullenly overhead, its ruined, dilapidated windows looking like skeleton eyes, whence glared a look of hate, as if in the crested battalions of blue waves from the shores of fair Columbia they beheld the heralds of their approaching destiny, decay and ruin, yea; even so does the intellectual wave, surging indomitably and irresistibly, under the impulse of freedom, and advanced civilization wing its way across the Atlantic, dash itself against the ramparts of the old world's superstitions and despotisms, undermining them piecemeal, till at last they will fall with a crash into the ocean of oblivion, just as now falls that huge mass from the precipice of St. Vincent, and is swallowed up in the waves of the west. Away inland, from St. Vincent, we see the Monchique mountains, whose ancient inhabitants were the Turditani, who practised the strange custom of regaling their important guests with draughts of horse's blood, while it was yet reeking and warm from the noble brute's veins. Many a battle and struggle happened on the plains, near the town, between us and the mountains, Lagos, ancient "Portus Hannibalis," when the heroic natives ranged themselves against the Carthagenians, and subsequently the Romans, but the destiny of man is onward, and the natives were crushed and swamped in the onward tide of advancement.

In the evening we had a fine view of the lights of Cadiz, and as we beheld them flicker on the eastern horizon, we thought of the black-eyed, voluptuous Andalusian beauties, whose soul-like eyes reflected in them those soft, subdued beams, that are said to be fascinating and melting. Later we passed Trafalgar, the scene of Britain's great naval victory, and of the death of Nelson. It is impossible to pass a spot so familiar as this, without letting the imagination take wing a bit, and recall the memorable day so important in modern history; but I hear the fiddles going, the boys and girls, reckless of Trafalgar and history in general, even in particular, are at it on the upper deck, and the infection being powerful, I turn from the dry meditation of historical ground to trip the light fantastic toe with the others, and a very jolly time we had. The night was calm, the moon was bright, and the music had a charming effect; the purser rattled merrily along with lively jigs; my friend Wally roused from the bosom of his mahogany-colored old fiddle, soft, insinuating waltz and polka melodies, occasionally giving such emphasis to the shakes and appogiatures, as to make some of us quite spoony, but the climax of the evening's entertainment was the performance of several solos, by the world-famed violinist, Signor Robbio Agostino, who, to our good fortune joined us at Lisbon. So impassioned were the notes that trembled from the strings under his magic touch that all hands were gathered near, and all listened in mute rapture to the great performer; his "Home Sweet Home" was so beautifully and so feelingly expressed that all our cherished home pictures flitted before us in an instant, and by the enchantment of the musician's wand, they all glowed with a richness and tenderness, we had never before been conscious of, while looking on them, also the surroundings of a foreign land so heightened the charm that in turning over the leaf from waking to sleeping, we were unconscious of the transition, and in our dreams still saw our pine-guarded vine-clad homes smiling in the western sun, the merry notes in those sunbeams being the dear ones who even now may be dreaming of us.

RUPTURE.

Every kind of Trusses for the cure of Rupture may be obtained at Dr. Keyser's establishment, No. 167 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa. It is a matter of the greatest consequence that all who are ruptured should be properly fitted with a suitable Truss, and one that will keep the ruptured parts in their place. Many persons do not know when they are ruptured, and frequently years are allowed to pass by before anything is done. This is a great error, and one that is often paid for at the expense of the person's life. Rupture is too serious an injury to be treated with lightness or neglect, especially when the means for its relief and cure are so easily obtained. Children and young persons are easily cured with the improved appliances which are constantly being added to the great variety which Dr. Keyser always has on hand.

Dr. Keyser's office, 167 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa., from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 to 6, and on Saturdays at night.

ORDINANCES.

[No. 239.]

AN ORDINANCE—Authorizing Laughlin & Co. to lay a switch track across Second avenue, connecting Eliza Furnace Stock Yard with the Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore Railroad.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the city of Pittsburgh in Select and Common Councils assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same, That Laughlin & Co. be and they are hereby authorized to construct a switch track across Second avenue, connecting Eliza Furnace yard with the Pittsburgh, Washington and Baltimore R.R. track in such place and manner as may be designated by the City Engineer, so as not to interfere with the established grade of the street.

SEC. 2. That Laughlin & Co. in using said switch track, shall not leave cars standing so as to obstruct travel on any street or alley crossing the line of switch or in any way interfere with the drains or water courses of any street, or any individual drains now located.

SEC. 3. That the Mayor, in conjunction with the Street Committee, is hereby authorized to grant unto the said Laughlin & Co. a license for the same upon the payment to the Mayor the annual fee of seventy-five (75) dollars for the said license.

SEC. 4. That nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to prevent the city from revoking the privilege granted by this Ordinance at any time upon sixty days' notice being given.

SEC. 5. That this privilege be and is hereby granted upon the express condition that Messrs Laughlin & Co. remove the switch tracks now used by them at Eliza Furnace and switch engine.

SEC. 6. That any Ordinance, or part of Ordinance, conflicting with the passage of this Ordinance at the present time, be and the same is hereby repealed, so far as the same affects this Ordinance.

Ordained and enacted into a law in Councils, this 14th day of January, A. D. 1873.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, February 8, 1873.

As we have before stated in this column, one of the reasons why money maintains its present high rate is because of the onerous burdens imposed in various ways by Government—both State and National upon the traffic in money. The effect of burdens in the shape of taxes imposed upon any specific branch of business, is not so much to decrease the profits of that business itself, as to impair its usefulness and impose additional burdens upon the people. And this is especially true of banking—more so, indeed, than of any other branch of business, for if banks are heavily taxed, they must of necessity largely increase their charges, thus disheartening their customers and preventing them from making extended use of the benefits they might afford. The less burdens and taxes imposed upon banks the more readily can they benefit the business community by selling their money at reasonable rates. It is not hard to prove that the present taxes upon banks are a very heavy burden. A few days ago we mentioned the various taxes imposed on our national banks, but the proceeds of these taxes foot up a very large sum. Comptroller Knox, in his late report, gives the following as his estimate of the amount of Federal and State taxes paid by national banks in the years stated:

1866	$16,019,380
1867	18,338,734
1870	19,159,468
1871	17,529,867

That is, the taxes in 1870 amounted to 4½ per cent. upon the capital of the banks, which then stood at $41,000,000. This is but the average; but in large banking centers, where local taxes are high, the rate is much beyond this. We might cite special instances of the fact, but we have not the space. A tax that is almost equal to the legal rate of interest in our State is an outrage, and an exercise of the power of Government almost criminal. True, the banks have lived under it, but their existence is but an evidence of their immense value to the community, who have really refunded these taxes to the banks that they might have the value of their services.

Our local money market remains as before reported. The banks are discounting pretty freely, and prime paper can readily be placed at ruling rates. Money seems to be getting more plenty among the banks, and good paper is more in demand than it has been for several weeks past.

The markets in the large cities, east and west, are reported variously. In Boston rates on prime paper are at 7 per cent. in New York, 9 per cent.; in Philadelphia, at 9 to 10 per cent.; in western cities, however, rates are reported high and money scarce. The St. Louis Democrat says:

> The money market has been one of remarkable stringency for this time of year. There has been unusually heavy calls upon the banks for money from nearly all the leading branches of trade, but a very small per centage of which have been in a condition to accommodate. The present condition of the money market is wholly attributable to the blockade in freights by both river and rail, compelling merchants to carry stocks on which they had expected to have disposed of some time since. The discount lines of nearly all the banks are estimated considerably more than is common, which with the lack of any large return flow of money, makes the prospect for a change for the better rather gloomy and somewhat distant. It is hoped that with the return of favorable weather and free shipments, the market may recover sufficiently to enable our merchants to move their stock with greater facility. Some of the best classes of customers are still accommodated at the banks, but the amount of offerings on the streets is very large, and borrowers seeking the open market find it very difficult to obtain favors.

In the New York stock market the bull movement seems to have been checked, and prices have declined a fraction through the entire list. Prices are all high, and a sudden decline may be looked for ere long.

Gold opened at 114⅛ and closed at 114, steady. Bulls in gold are endeavoring to force up gold because of no positive advices as to the amounts of subscriptions to the new loan in Europe.

The New York Bank statement for the week is as follows:

Loans, increase	$7,069,400
Specie, increase	423,300
Legal tender, decrease	694,400
Deposits, increase	3,130,700
Circulation, increase	19,600

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, February 8, 1873.

The fine weather of the past few days has, as might be expected, infused a better feeling into the general markets, and the indications are that trade is destined to improve. As yet, however, the demand for all of the leading commodities is confined almost wholly to supplying immediate wants, while in regard to values there have been no changes recently worthy of special notice.

APPLES—Continue very dull, but prices are without quotable change, ranging from $1.75@2.50 per bbl, according to quality.

APPLE BUTTER—50@60c, as to quality.

BUTTER—Prime to choice roll, 25@28, and not much inquiry for the lower grades.

BEANS—In fair supply and cannot be quoted above $2.50@2.75 per bush., according to quality.

BEESWAX—Sales at 35@40c per lb.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—4@4¼c per lb.

BROOM CORN—The inquiry continues light, and with increased receipts, the market is dull, but prices are unchanged, ranging from 4½ to 6½c per lb.

CARBON OIL—Is quoted a shade firmer in sympathy with the raw material, but there is no change in prices as yet and no improvement in the demand; we continue to quote at 16¾ by the car load, and 2 to 3c more for small lots.

CHEESE—Is reported quiet and unchanged. Standard Goshen, in a jobbing way, 16½@17.

CONCENTRATED LYE—Is quoted at $7.50 per case for 50 case lots, and $8 for small lots.

CRANBERRIES—Sackett's and Carey's, $14 per bbl; common, $10@12.

DRESSED HOGS—Quotable at 4¾ for coarse heavy, and 5 to 5½ for light weights.

DRIED FRUIT—There is no quotable improvement in the demand, and no change to make in quotations; Peaches, halves, 7@8c; Apples, 4 to 6c; Blackberries, 10 to 12.

EGGS—The market continues to drag, and with slightly increased receipts, prices are weaker, and there is no mistaking the fact that the tendency is toward lower rates; we quote nominally at 34@36 for fresh.

FLOUR—The market is less active, though prices, as yet, are without quotable change; $8.25@8.75 for fair to choice spring wheat, and $9@9.50 for red winter wheat. It will have been observed, by those who watch the telegraphic reports, that all the leading markets, including New York and Liverpool, continue dull, and the indications generally would seem to indicate a lower range of prices.

GRAIN—There is a steady demand for Wheat, and with continued light receipts, prices are fully sustained; medium to prime red ranging from $1.80 to $1.85; however, Wheat, too, as well as flour, has weakened all over the country recently, and lower prices here are anticipated. Oats continue quiet, and with scarcely an average demand and increased receipts and offerings, prices are weak, and we reduce our quotations to 44@46. Shelled Corn is reported very dull, and with increased receipts and stocks accumulating, it, too, is weaker; may be fairly quoted at 54@55 on track, and 56@57 free in elevator. Sales of Ear, in bulk, at 54@55. Rye is still quotable, in the absence of sales, at 90c. Barley, 90 to 95c for spring, and $1@1.05 for fall.

GROCERIES—Trade is improving slightly, although it is far from being brisk, or even fair; however, our merchants are generally sanguine that the dull season is about over, and that a good spring business is almost inevitable—it is sincerely hoped that their expectations may be fully realized.

SUGARS—Crushed, 13c; Granulated, 13c; Powdered, 13¼c; A Coffee, 12c; B, 11⅞c; Ex. C, 11⅝c; C, 11¼c; Porto Rico, 10@10½c.

COFFEE—Common Rio, 22c; Fair, 23c; Good, 24c; Prime to choice, 25½@26; Roasted, in lb packages 27c; loose, 26½c; Java, 26@27c.

RICE—Carolina, 8¾@9c; Rangoon, 7¾@8.

MOLASSES—New Orleans, 75@80c.

HAY—Continues very dull, and notwithstanding the receipts of baled have been comparatively light for some days past, the supply is still in excess of the demand, and prices are barely maintained; we continue to quote at $24@28 per ton, on track, according to quality.

HOMINY—$4.25 to $4.75 per barrel.

HONEY—Is quoted at 35 to 40c per lb.

MINCE MEAT—Standard brands 12c.

MILL FEED—Continues dull, but unchanged. Bran 90 to $1 per cwt; Seconds, $1.00@$1.10; Middlings, $1.20 to $1.30, according to quality.

ONIONS—$5 to $7 per bbl.

OIL—No. 1 Extra Lard Oil is quoted at 70 to the trade, and 72@73 in small lots.

POTATOES—Sales in a jobbing way at 80@85c per bushel, as to quality.

PROVISIONS—Sugar Cured Hams, 13c; Sugar Cured Shoulders, 7½c; Plain Shoulders, 6¼c; Rib Sides, 8c; Clear Rib Sides, 8⅜c; Clear Sides, 9c; Breakfast Bacon, 11½c; Dried Beef, 18c; Mess Pork, $14.50; Ham Sausage, 10c. Leaf Lard: in tres, 9c; half bbls, 9¼c; pails, 10¼. Pigs Feet: in half bbls, $4.40 in kegs, $2.20. Beef tongues, $7.50 per dozen.

RAGS—Quoted at 3¼@3½c.

SEEDS—Clover Seed is still quoted in a jobbing way at $5.75@6; and Timothy at $4@4.25. Flax seed is in steady demand at $1.95.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 8@8¼c.

WHISKY—Highwines may be quoted at 93@94c.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY,
SATURDAY, February 8, 1873.

RECEIPTS.

The following is a statement of the receipts of live stock during the week, and in order to afford a comparison, we append those of the week preceding also:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	302	280 cars.
Hogs	204	140 "
Sheep	78	105 "
Horses	47	24 "
Mules	20	8 "
Total	651	557 "

CATTLE.

Trade opened up hard on Monday, under the influence of very unfavorable advices from the east, and instead of improving it grew worse and worse as the week advanced; and dealers generally, especially those who had stock to sell, pronounced the market as having been one of the, if not, the hardest that has been experienced here for several months. During the first part of the week business was very slow, rendered so by the fact that sellers were unwilling to make concessions, and buyers obstinately refused to take hold unless at reduced prices; on Wednesday afternoon, finding it was useless to hold out any longer, holders made the concessions asked, and trade at once brightened up considerably, and this continued on Thursday; on Friday it slackened up, and on Saturday there was scarcely anything doing, though this was nothing unusual, as the eastern buyers usually return home prior to that time. However, even after the reduction in prices, the supply was in excess of the demand, which was very much curtailed by the New York buyers, who did not buy anything like the number they usually do, and, in consequence, a good many were sent on east in first hands, and there were some 11 or 12 cars will be sent over to Allegheny for retail.

The quality, as a rule, was common although there were several droves of good cattle, which were sent on in first hands, the owners refusing to sell at the prices that were offered; there was a drove of six cars from Southern Ohio for which 7c was bid and refused early in the week—same cattle would have brought 7¼ to 7½ last week; to-day, however, the same grade cannot be quoted above 6¾, showing a decline of ½ to ¾ of a cent—in common and inferior, the difference was still greater as there was a full supply.

QUOTATIONS.

Prime 1,400 to 1,500 steers	6 50@6 75
Good 1,200 to 1,300 steers	5 50@6 00
Good 1,000@1,150 steers	5 00@5 25
Good 850@900 steers	3 50@4 00
Cows, stags, etc. etc.	2 50@3 50

SHEEP.

The sheep market has also been extremely hard—generally conceded as having been the worst we have had for several months, and what is worse still, there is not much prospect of an early improvement. New York continues hard, having been flattened out completely by the report that several thousand diseased sheep had been distributed among the New York butchers; whether it was true or not, we cannot state, but it is certain that it has curtailed the demand very much; there were only something like half a dozen of cars bought here for that market; whereas, Erisman alone, usually takes from 25 to 40 cars. Therefore, with an average supply, and buyers only for about one-half the usual number, trade opened slow and dragged all the way through—to-day at noon there were some 10 or 12 cars in the pens unsold, notwithstanding quite a number were sent east in first hands. The best grades, as compared with last week, may be quoted off from ¼ to ½ of a cent per lb, while common and inferior declined from ¾ to 1 cent, and very dull at even the decline.

QUOTATIONS.

Prime fine wool, 95@100 lbs.	6 00@6 50
Prime fine wool, 85@90 lbs.	5 25@5 75
Prime fine wool, 75@80 lbs.	4 25@5 00
Prime open wool, 110@130 lbs.	6 00@7 00
Prime open wool, 90@100 lbs.	5 25@5 75

HOGS.

The market has been offish this week, caused mainly by increased receipts, and prices have declined from 20 to 25c on prime heavy, and 40 to 50c on common light hogs; the cause of the latter declining more than the former is easily explained—there was an over-supply of common, while good hogs were comparatively scarce. However, there were only some 7 or 8 cars in the pens at noon to-day unsold, and operators were inclined to the belief that the bottom had been reached for the present, that there will be no further decline, and the indications were favorable to that view of the situation.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, Feb. 8, 1873.

The crude market was weaker to-day, owing to the striking of several new wells, though prices as compared with Friday are without quotable change; $2.20@2.25 per bbl, at Parker, equal to about 6¼c per gallon here. There is no doubt but what the recent strikes, to which reference has been made, will tend to weaken the prices, but it is reported that a very large amount of oil has been shipped out of the producing regions recently; hence, the producers are in a better condition to manage their product, having had their exchequers replenished by recent sales, and then again their tanking capacity will have been increased. However, the indications generally are not favorable for a high range of prices, and, so far as we can learn, this is not expected; producers, on the other hand, will be satisfied if there is no decline, while consumers hereabouts are expecting soon to be able to get the article cheaper.

The refined market continues quiet, but within the past two days a stronger feeling seems to have been developed, and the impression is gaining strength that prices have touched bottom, and it may not be out of place to state in this connection that they are lower than they have been for several years. Sales were made yesterday on Pittsburgh account in Philadelphia at 19, and 2,000 barrels were reported on cars here at 16c. The export trade continues very limited, and it is very likely to remain so during the next 30 or 60 days, as it is usually very quiet during February and March. Many of our refiners are taking advantage of the dull season to make repairs and improve their works.

The market for Oil Barrels continues very quiet; the demand is light, but the supply, on spot, is almost exhausted, and prices in consequence are still maintained: $2@2.05 for city, and $1.90@1.95 for country. Largely increased receipts, particularly by river, are expected within the next few days, and if so, lower prices will doubtless be the result.

Iron Markets.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The Shipping List says: The market for Scotch Pig continues very quiet but there is considerable inquiry for the [illegible] and a good business is confidently looked for on the opening of navigation. Holders abroad are asking very full prices, as the advices from the other side continue to note the increased cost of the article on account of the continued strikes, and the increased price of coal, which has nearly doubled in a short time past—also, that only 67 furnaces are in blast out of 132 in the vicinity of Glasgow, through which cause Iron cannot be laid down here except at a cost above the prices now ruling here. The sales are confined almost entirely to jobbing parcels at very full figures, the market still having an upward tendency. The sales are several small lots Gartsherrie at $50, now held for $60; and 100 do Coltness $62.50; we quote Eglinton $55, Glengarnock $58, and Gartsherrie $60; 400 tons Eglinton are held at Philadelphia for $54. American Pig is firm at $50 for No. 1, while No. 2 X is weak at $48, though 100 tons sold at this figure. The high prices of Scotch Iron have turned the attention of the trade somewhat to No. 1 American, which brand most makers refuse to sell except small quantities, unless No. 1 is taken in part. We understand that contracts for all that can be had at less than $50 for No. 1 have been made, and from the present outlook, holders expect a further advance in prices. The market for manufactured goods has as yet not responded to the advance in the raw material to any great extent, but prices must necessarily advance to net a profit to holders. The only sales besides those noted above are 200@300 tons Grey Forge at $42. There is no demanded for new English Rails, and they may be quoted nominally at $72@74 gold; old are generally firmly held at $52@53 gold, and $60 currency, though a lot of 250 tons old T is reported at $52 currency, and 500 do on terms not made public. New American are quiet at about $80 currency at the mills in Pennsylvania. Scrap is generally held from yard at $55@60, and we understand that but little can be had except at the higher figure; 100 tons sold on private terms. Refined Bar is steady at our quotations for job lots from store. Sheet is quiet.

LIVERPOOL.—A late Liverpool paper says:—On Tuesday there was a larger attendance than usual on 'Change at Middlesborough, and inquiries for all kinds of iron were numerous. Cleveland Pig is scarce; there is no No. 1 in the market. Nominally No. 3 is quoted at 110@115s per ton. Sales were effected on Tuesday at 110s for No. 3. Some firms have closed their order books for the present. The strike in Wales has had the effect of strengthening prices in the North of England all round. Rails are quoted £11 10s@£12. Plates £12 10s@£13. Puddled Bar makers are receiving an influx of orders, and are asking £8 15s@£9 per ton. On the 27th inst. the Board of Arbitration will hold a meeting at Darlington, where the wages question will be considered. The supply of Ironstone is unequal to the demand, and prices are fully maintained. Every effort is being made to forward the blast furnaces and finished Iron works which are being built in the Stockton and Middlesborough districts.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 8.—The following is from the American: We note a fair demand for Foundry Metal, and the maket is very firm, and prices are higher. We quote Anthracite at $46 for No. 1; $44 for No. 2; $40@41 for No. 3; and $38 for mottled. Charcoal is also very firm at $57.50@60, but the trade is not active. The market for Scotch Pig is active, and prices are very firm. We quote Eglinton at $51@52, and Gartsherrie at $55@56 per ton from yard.

Wool Markets.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—The market remains in the same condition as previously reported, but prices, perhaps, are a little stiffer, owing to the failure of the meeting of the manufacturers which was held in this city on the 5th, the object being to close all mills until better prices can be realized for goods. At the gathering only some twenty firms were represented, and after a short session an adjournment was proposed and carried without any business of importance being transacted. The demand at present seems to be for no particular descriptions, as the sales show a little of most every kind of Domestic. Dealers continue to talk firm, but a weakness is here and there perceptible. The transactions comprise: 35 bales Cape at 38@39½c; 18,000 lbs. do, 38; 100 bales spring California, 33; 2,500 Fall do., 32; 20,070 lbs. Pulled, 55@65; 5,000 lb. scoured Domestic, 98; 10,000 lbs. X Ohio, 67½; 5,000 lbs. do. and Michigan, 65@67; 1,000 lbs. Georgia, 45½@47; 2,500 lbs. Indiana, inferior 60; 50 bags Combing, 20,000 lbs. low Carpet, 17,000 lbs. Oregon, 20,000 lbs. Spring California, 35 bales Cape, and 5,000 lbs. Texas on private terms. At the auction at Boston, 2,000 bags of damaged mixed sold at prices ranging from 49 up to 116 cents, clear Australian bringing the latter price.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 8.—Prices favor buyers, and there is very little movement. Small sales are reported. The quotations are as follows: Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia XX at 68@70c; X at 66@68c; medium, ¾ to ⅜ blood, 65@68c; coarse, ¼ blood, 63@65c; common, 60c; Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and other Western States, fine X to XX, 65c; medium, 65@66c; coarse, 63@65c; common, 60c; choice tub washed 70@75c; fair to inferior, 63@67c; fine unwashed, 43@45c; medium unwashed, 48@50c; coarse and burry unwashed, 42@45c; combing unwashed, 58@60; washed combing, 78@80c; Philadelphia No. 1 and super pulled, 56@60c; Philadelphia merino pulled, 56@58c; western super pulled, 53@55c; western merino pulled, 53@55c.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

New York Financial Market.

NEW YORK, February 8, 1873.

Gold sold at 114, 113⅞, 114⅛, 113¾, and closed at 113¾@114 strong. Loans 3 to 7 per cent. for carrying. Clearings $65,000,000. The specie exported for the week amounted to $1,643,370. Governments opened strong, and were very firm all day. State bonds dull and steady, prices merely nominal. Money was active for call loans at 7 per cent. gold 1 to 1-32, and closed at the lower rate. The bank statement is again unfavorable, the banks now holding $2,188,150 lawful money above the 25 per cent. reserve, which is $1,058,975 less than last week. The stock market opened and continued weak until after the first board, when a general advance took place. After the second board the feeling was stronger, and towards the close business was heavy without any especial feature in the list.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was about stationary last evening with scant 8 feet in channel. The weather has again turned cold and the Allegheny was putting new ice, though, as might be expected, it was thin; thermometer 14 and falling; wind northwest.

The arrivals since the date of our last report include the Carrie Brooks, Granite State and Hercules. The Brooks reports having met the most of the coal fleet, and her officers had no knowledge of any accident having occured.

The E. H. Durfee, Capt. Wm. Coulson, is announced for St. Louis, and the Exchange, Capt. Ed. Evans, for Nashville.

The Juniata, from Cincinnati, and the Brill, from Nashville, are among the first boats due.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial of Saturday: The H. C. Yaeger put 200 tons of sugar and molasses on McCoy's big wharfboat for re-shipment to Pittsburgh. The Thompson Dean has also 250 tons of sugar and molasses for re-shipment to Wheeling and Pittsburgh. The Yaeger was visited by numerous people curious to see a mammoth ark. Capt. Vanhook was cordially received on 'Change by his brother boatmen and the shipping public, and although offered several round lots of freight at a shade below the going figures, declined to accept, stating he considered the present rates too low, but would take all offering at the current figures and depart for New Orleans to-day, sure. He prefers to take the chances of filling out below, between here and Cairo, to cutting rates. He talked like a sensible steamboatman.

—In the United States District Court at Evansville on Tuesday, a judgement was rendered in favor of Thomas & Co., against the steamer Bowling Green for $386, for sinking a barge. An appeal was taken to the Circuit Court. In the general average adjustment of the Florence Lee, the following is the result: Amount of jettison and allowance $5,498.53; value of boat and cargo, adding passenger and freight list, $29,932.13; per centage, 18.57 per cent.

—The House Committee on Commerce Thursday disposed of the river and harbor bill, with the exception of Holman's amendment relating to the Louisville & Portland canal, which will be settled to-day. The bill is not materially changed, and includes $400,000 for the improvement of the Des Moines rapids, and $50,000 for Rock Island.

The consumption of coal last month at New Orleans was 32 boats, or 30,000 bushels. The amount of stock on hand last Saturday was 21 boats and 2 barges or 448,000 bushels altogether; Of this the gas company held 7 boats and steamships 3, leaving but 41 boats and 8 barges in the hands of all dealers.

—A late St. Louis paper says: The Wild Duck will have her repairs finished inside of three weeks, which will cost in the neighborhood of $3,000. Capt. Adams, her commander, yesterday chartered the barges Lyon and Monongahela, one of which he will load with pig metal and the other with iron ore, to take up the Ohio with him.

—The Muscatine Journal of Monday says: The ice in the channel of the Mississippi in many places is 32 inches in thickness—2 inches thicker than ever known. In 1843 it was 30 inches, the thickest known previous to this season.

—Captain Sinnott has chartered the new Iberia packet, St. Marys, for a trial in the Ouachita river trade, and if found suitable, may purchase her.

—The sale of the steamer Capitol City by the Missouri River Packet Company to the Memphis & St. Louis Company was filed at the St. Louis Custom House Tuesday.

—James Porter, well known as a White river pilot, and recently engaged on the steamer Batesville, died in Memphis last Saturday of small-pox. Mr. Porter was about 27 years of age.

—Gen. Weitzel has been ordered to take charge of the river and harbor improvemants in the Detroit District, but will still remain in charge of the Louisville canal until it is finished.

—Capt. John McCune said the other day, at St. Louis, that there had not been a steamboat line running between St. Louis and St. Baul during the past three years that had made a dollar.

—Capt. Theo Davis, an old towboat commander, has gone to farming six miles back of Covington.

—The Ada Hellman was sold at Evansville to Captain Dix, of Nashville, for $10,500, equivalent to cash.

—The number of bales of cotton received at Shreveport so far this season is 36,355 bales. Something over 50,000 bales have yet to come in.

—The Bellevernon was to have left Cincinnati for this port on Saturday.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Speedily Cured.—All Forms

of Venereal, Private and Nervous disease at the old established Girard Medical Institute, No. 172 Second avenue, between Smithfield and Grant streets, Pittsburgh, Pa.

NO CHARGE UNTIL CURED.

Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief. Spermatorrhea, or Seminal weakness and Impotency, as the result of self-abuse or excess in maturer years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, and sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential. This Institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the treatment of Private and special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country that have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, if curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured in any cases given up by other physicians.

Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address:

The Constitutional Convention.

CONFERRING UNLIMITED POWER ON RAILROADS.

Woman Suffrage Still Under Discussion.

SPEECHES AND RESOLUTIONS ON THE DEATH OF EX-GOVERNOR GEARY.

Propositions to be Submitted to the People—Resolutions Concerning the Sale of Liquors—Railroads and Canals, &c.

PHILADELPHIA, February 6, 1873.

A large number of ladies were present, they having discovered that the galleries are open for their accommodation.

MEMORIALS, COMMUNICATIONS

and petitions were received and referred. The Convention was invited by the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania to visit their new buildings in West Philadelphia on Saturday, the 8th inst, which invitation was accepted, on motion of Mr. Dallas.

The majority of memorials and petitions from all parts of the State had reference to the sale of intoxicating drinks and military service, there being a larger number than usual.

PROPOSITIONS TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE PEOPLE.

Mr. S. A. Purviance offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Suffrage report to the Convention three propositions; one in favor of cumulative suffrage; one in favor of female suffrage, and one in favor of prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage—the same to be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection.

Mr. Purviance modified his resolution by withdrawing the proposition on cumulative suffrage.

The ayes and noes being called by Mr. Broomall, resulted ayes, 51, noes, 54, so it was not agreed to.

CONCERNING THE SALE OF LIQUORS.

Mr. D. N. White offered the following:

That the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors, whether fermented, brewed or distilled, or any admixture part of which is alcoholic and adaped to be used as a beverage, is prohibited. The manufacture and sale of such liquors for exportation, for medicinal, sacramental, mechanical or artistic purposes by agents specially provided by law, are excepted.

The General Assembly shall, within one year from the adoption of the Constitution, enact laws with adequate penalties for the enforcement of this provison.

A motion made that the debate in the Committee of the Whole to-day should close at 12 M was defeated.

The Committee on Printing was instructed to report to this Convention whether the Printer of the House is furnishing the papers of the State with copies of the proceedings of the Convention.

RAILROAD POWERS.

Mr. Cochran, from the Committee on Railroads, offered the following—that it is contrary to public policy, and against the public interest, that laws shall be enacted conferring unlimited power upon railroad or other corporations to increase capital stock and issue bonds

Mr. Howard, of Allegheny, in support of the resolution, expressed his belief that the delegates of the Convention would endorse the principle contained in it. He thought it a proper provision to be placed in the Constitution of the State, and that it would be conceded without question that corporations should never have the power conferred upon them to increase their capital stock and issue their bonds to any amount at their discretion. On this point he called attention to an article in the Pittsburgh GAZETTE of a recent date, by reading from that newspaper an article entitled "The Pennsylvania Railroad Company's Legislative Programme," giving a substantial statement of the bill recently passed by the House of Representatives for increasing the capital stock and the issue of bonds of that company, and characterizing the measure as the most extraordinary ever presented to the Legislature, in authorizing an unlimited increase in the stock and bonds.

The speaker said the bill referred to had been published at length in the Philadelphia morning papers. If it was right and proper that the Legislature should pass laws of that description, then their resolution should be defeated; but if it was not right to allow a corporation to increase its capital stock and issue bonds to an equal amount, then the resolution should be not only considered forthwith, but adopted by the Convention as one of the provisions to be inserted in the Constitution. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company had already under its control property amounting to one thousand millions of dollars, and to give them this additional enormous power—a power such as had never been conferred upon any corporation in the world—was, the speaker thought, going too far.

Mr. Hanna moved to recommit the resolution to the Committee on Railroads.

Messrs. Cochran, Campbell and others opposed its return to the Committee, and desired an expression of opinion on the part of the Convention.

Mr. Lawrence moved that the Committee on Railroads be requested to report an article which shall prevent the Legislature from authorizing any railroad company from increasing its stock, except under proper limitations therein designated.

The ayes and noes were called on the question, and resulted—ayes, 98; noes, 8.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The Convention then went into Committee of the Whole on the subject of Woman Suffrage Mr. Lawrence in the chair.

Mr. D. N. White was in favor of striking out the word "male," not because it would give women the right to vote, but to make it conform to the Federal Constitution.

Mr. Temple advocated the amendment of the gentleman from Delaware, and believed that the elevation of woman to the rights possessed by man would tend to still further improve her intellectually and morally, and instead of causing dissensions, would increase the attractions and happiness of home.

Mr. Metzger did not want to leave the old and beaten track in which our forefathers trod. He saw no reasons advanced by the friends of woman suffrage which could sway his judgment. Be believed that man was divinely ordained to rule over woman, and he could not violate the divine law. It was merely a question of expediency, which, in his view, it was not expedient for this Convention to consider. He depicted the terrible evils which would result to the household from giving to women the ballot.

Mr. Boyd by no means underrated this question. It was a big thing in the estimation of some gentlemen, who he felt were influenced by personal and selfish interests.

The Convention then adjourned until to-morrow at 11 o'clock A. M.

PHILADELPHIA, February 7, 1873.

MISCELLANEOUS BUSINESS.

A report from the Prothonotary of Potter county was received and read.

Mr. E. C. Knight (Philadelphia) presented memorials on the sale of liquors and military taxation.

Other petitions were presented by members respecting the same subjects, and were referred to the proper committees.

A petition of Eliza W. Broomall and 120 other ladies, in favor of female suffrage, was presented by Mr. Campbell.

Judge Woodward offered a resolution that the debate on woman suffrage be closed at 1 o'clock to-day, and the question taken without further discussion.

Mr. Guthrie moved to amend that the final vote on the section of suffrage be taken to-day, and, if necessary, the hour of postponement be extended.

The amendment was rejected, and the ayes and nays were called for, and then withdrawn, when Judge Woodward's resolution was agreed to by a large majority.

RAILROADS AND CANALS.

Mr. D. W. Patterson offered the following resolution:

That the Committee on Railroads and Canals are requested to consider the expediency of restraining (by the organic law) the Legislature from creating any corporation for the construction of railroads, canals, &c., except for municipal purposes, for a longer period than forty years.

LEGISLATIVE ENACTMENTS.

Mr. Ross offered a resolution that "the Legislature shall pass no enactment to the operation, force, or effect of which shall be limited or conditioned upon its approval by a majority at a general or special election; and that no law shall be enacted which shall be dependent upon a majority vote for its enforcement."

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

The Convention went into Committee of the Whole on Woman Suffrage.

Mr. H. G. Smith opened the discussion in a speech against the motion to strike out the word "male" from the section reported by the Committee, his principal argument being that woman could exercise a better influence in our politics and government by educating her boys to despise corruption and grow up to be good men and worthy citizens.

Mr. Heverin followed in the same vein, and ridiculed the idea of woman voting, quoting largely from the Old Testament to support his position.

A motion was made that the Committee rise to give an opportunity for a motion to extend the hour when the vote should be taken on the question, which was carried. A motion was then made to reconsider the resolution to take the vote at 1 o'clock; on this motion the ayes and nays were called, resulting in ayes 62, noes 45. The hour of one o'clock having arrived, the President, Mr. Walker, called Mr. Lawrence to the Chair, who announced that the Convention was again resolved into Committee of the Whole, and that the amendment was again in order. After considerable confusion and sparring about questions of order, &c., &c., the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Broomall, withdrew his amendment, thus ending discussion for the present. The section being before the Committee, Mr. Collins (Fayette) offered an amendment to strike out two months and insert sixty days, which was not agreed to.

Mr. Niles moved to amend by inserting (line 4) after the word "election," "and having within two years and at least one month before election paid a State or county tax, which shall have been assessed at least two months before the election."

The amendment was discussed by Messrs. Buckalew, Cowen, Simpson, White, of Allegheny, and others, when on motion the Committee reported progress, with leave to sit again to-morrow.

On motion, adjourned until to-morrow.

PHILADELPHIA, February 8, 1873.

THE DEATH OF GOVERNOR GEARY.

The Convention was called to order by Judge Walker, of Erie, Mr. Meredith yet being confined to his home by indisposition. Opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Curry, Chaplain, who touched upon the death of ex-Governor Geary, and invoked the divine blessing upon the widow and family of the deceased.

Mr. Armstrong rose and announced the death of ex-Governor John W. Geary.

Mr. Armstrong said the Convention has heard this morning, with very profound regret, of the decease of ex-Governor Geary. The dispatch which bears to us this sad intelligence informs us that, as he sat at breakfast, engaged in sprightly conversation with his family, death suddenly arrested him in his course. It reminds us what shadows we are and what shadows we pursue. Not long since I had the pleasure of meeting Governor Geary, and in the course of a pleasant conversation he remarked to me that he had for some time been unwell, and that he much feared his health was giving way.

He spoke cheerfully on the topics of the day, but was evidently impressed with the belief that his health was in a very precarious condition. He has filled, and so ably, so many conspicuous positions, that his life is intimately associated with much of the history and many of the most striking events which have marked the eventful years of the last decade. During the war he was prominent in many of its most notable conflicts, and won proud distinction upon many fields. Few men have lived whose lives have been more filled with great events.

This is not the time to eulogize his memory, and I forbear from further comment. He was personally my friend, and I was his, and in offering this sad tribute to his worth it is in accordance not only with my personal feeling of friendship and regard, but with my sense of public duty and propriety.

He offered the following resolutions, which were seconded by Mr. Alricks, of Dauphin:

Resolved, That this Convention has heard with deep regret of the sudden death of John W. Geary, late Governor of this State.

Resolved, That we tender to his bereaved family our most sincere sympathy, and that as a mark of respect for his memory, both as a private citizen and a public officer, this Convention do now adjourn.

Resolved, That the Clerk of this Convention forward to the family of the deceased a copy of these resolutions.

Mr. Alricks, in seconding the resolutions, made a few remarks, when, at the close, the resolutions were adopted without a dissenting voice, and the convention adjourned to meet on Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

THE NORTHFLEET HORROR.

Details of the Terrible Disaster

HEARTRENDING SCENES THAT FOLLOWED THE COLLISION.

The Ship Goes Down Head First with Two Hundred and Twenty-Seven Souls on Board.

The London Times of January 25 publishes details of the terrible disaster to the ship Northfleet, from which it appears that at half-past ten at night the captain and others were alarmed by a cry from the officer of the watch—"A steamer is right into us." The captain and pilot rushed on deck, but before they got there the steamer had run into the vessel, and cutting her below the water-mark. The carpenter reported her nearly half full of water. The pumps were started promptly and the crew worked hard at them for some minutes, but when it was found that the water was rapidly gaining, a panic seemed to seize both crew and passengers, and the officers could not keep the latter in check. A crowd of men and women had rushed up from their berths.

STRIKING HER AMIDSHIPS,

MANY ONLY HALF CLOTHED.

The passengers had mostly retired; but few were undressed. The noise of the collision is likened by one of them to a peal of thunder, and such was the violence of the shock that those standing were knocked down.

It appears that the steamer rebounded, and came a second time in collision with the Northfleet; water began to pour in, and in a very short time the passengers' quarters were swamped. The women were slower to rush on deck than the men, and many were not in a condition to go till the water rose threateningly around them. No one on board the steamer was heard to speak, although loud and eager shouts from the Northfleet must have made her crew aware of the terrible danger that existed. She backed for two or three minutes, and then steamed rapidly away and was soon out of sight. For half an hour the scene on the deck of the Northfleet was appalling.

WOMEN SHRIEKED, MEN CURSED

and swore and fought their way toward the boats, whilst the captain and first mate roared out commands to keep back and allow the women to get to the side of the vessel, but apparently without success. Rockets were fired and blue lights burned. The gun was loaded, but the screw of the ramrod became detached from the handle, and the piece could not be discharged. Signals of distress were seen by other vessels, but appear to have been regarded as signals for a pilot, for no assistance was rendered. Meanwhile the scene on deck baffled description. The captain, finding the men determined to leave the vessel, went below, armed himself with a revolver, and ascending the poop, declared his determination who tried to leave the vessel before the women were saved. The first boat launched was lowered by a number of passengers by cutting the ropes. There being no ladder at hand, the only way of getting into it was by leaping or dropping some twelve or fifteen feet. As there was a terrible rush toward the boat the scene was one of distressing confusion, and a man and boy fell into the water and were drowned. The officers did all they could to force the men who first got into the boat to leave it, that the women might be saved, but to no purpose. Even firing with a blank cartridge, it is supposed, at first, was unavailing. About thirty persons having got into it, the boat was pulled off, with not one of the crew in it.

TO SHOOT THE FIRST MAN

ANOTHER LIFE BOAT WAS LAUNCHED,

when a man got into it and was ordered to leave. He refused, and the captain shot him in the calf of the leg. Captain Knowls placed his wife in the boat and said to the boatswain, who had already got in, "Here is a charge for you; take care of her and the rest, and God bless you!" Wringing his wife's hand, he bade her good-bye, saying, "I shall never see you again!" It is impossible to describe the panic that raged all the time. Heartrending scenes were witnessed on all sides. One of the passengers, seeing the captain's wife in the boat, threw his own wife in, tossed the baby to her, and entered the boat himself. A little girl was thrown into the boat by her father, who tried to save the rest of his family, but the seething, maddened crowd pressing towards the side of the vessel prevented, and, with his wife and two other children, he went down with the ill fated vessel.

THE FATE OF THE ENGINEER.

The engineer, who made frantic efforts to save his wife and children, was jammed between the cook-house and gunwale, receiving such dreadful injuries that though afterwards rescued, he is still in a precarious state. Only two of the seven boats aboard were launched, owing, no doubt, to the panic, and one was seriously injured as the tackle was cut and the boat fell into the sea. When the second boat got off it seemed to become a question of moments. The quarter deck was still crowded by some crying, swearing and praying. The captain and pilot were together, and the latter was heard saying, "If you want to save yourselves, make for the top-mast," to which many people rushed. In a quarter of an hour a tug picked up the second boat with thirty occupants, and then steamed for some time round the spot, where, about three-quarters of an hour after being struck,

MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN,

THE NORTHFLEET WENT DOWN,

head first, with awful suddenness, with 227 souls on board. At that moment the first boat was one hundred yards and the second only twenty or thirty from the vessel. The first boat, after landing the women, put out to the scene of the wreck, and saved five men who were trying to swim to shore. A lugger took off the occupants of the second boat, 34 passengers and a pilot. The cutter rescued a pilot and ten men, who, having gone down with the vessel, rose to the surface and clung to the maintopmast rigging. The vessel lies in eleven fathoms of water.

The survivors say the captain displayed the greatest heroism, maintained his presence of mind from first to last, strove hard to put an end to the panic, and did his duty bravely to the end. He was at the last moment going across the deck in the hope of enabling some of the crowd rushing around the boats on that side to get away from the ship. The survivors say other boats got adrift and express the belief that if the passengers had allowed them to be lowered properly, at least one hundred more lives could have been saved. Unfortunately the women could not climb the masts, although we did all in our power to help them, consequently all the women and children, with the exception of the captain's wife and another, and two children, were drowned.

BROWNSVILLE.

Sale of Real Estate—Deaths—J. S. Pringle, Esq.—The Break-up.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BROWNSVILLE, PA., February 7, 1873.

"THE KREPPS BOTTOMS."

This valuable tract of land known by the above name, situated just below West Brownsville and containing about forty acres has been sold to a company of Pittsburgh capitalists for the sum of twelve thousand dollars. We are glad to see capital seeking investment in this direction. Parties buying real estate here now are sure to realize handsome profits from the investment. The above sale is an omen, we predict, of better times for Brownsville. Enterprising capitalists are welcome here.

DEATHS.

Arthur Offord, son of Elijah Offord died last week from an attack of lung fever. Arthur was about three years of age.

Willie, second son of Z. Carmack, died Sunday morning, of brain fever. He was about seven years old.

A little colored girl ten years of age, daughter of Mrs. Lannam, was so terribly burned that she died a few hours afterward.

James H. Hartrandt died February 4th, of typhoid fever. Mr. Hartrandt was about thirty years of age, and leaves a family consisting of a wife and three children. The family have the heartfelt sympathies of the entire community in this severe affliction.

J. S. PRINGLE, ESQ.

Mr. Pringle, who has for some weeks been confined to his room with inflammatory rheumatism, is again able to be about. John is one of our substantial men, and all hail with joy his recovery.

THE BREAK-UP.

The river is now clear of ice and about twenty feet of water in the channel. The mail packets will resume their trips this week.

LECTURE.

The third lecture of the course was delivered in the Presbyterian Church, February 6, by C. W. Smith, A. M. Subject—"Popular Delusions."

HOME NEWS.

Dissenting Opinions.

It appears that the recent decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania denying to the National Banks the right to receive mortgages as security for current discounts, was not concurred in by all the judges, as has been stated. Justices Sharswood and Williams have filed dissenting opinions, and as the case goes to the United States Supreme Court for adjudication, the law in the case cannot be said to have been finally settled.

Accidents on the Road.

Yesterday afternoon, John McMasters, a coachman, was driving along Penn street, near the forks of the road, when his horses became frightened and ran away. The driver was thrown out violently, striking against a hydrant and causing a very severe injury about the head. Dr. Clark is attending him.

John Speece was run over by a horse and buggy on Thirty-third street, on Saturday night and very badly hurt. The accident was the result of reckless driving, and the police attempted to capture the guilty party but without success.

Woman's Christain Association.

The members of the Woman's Christian Association held their anniversary meeting last evening in the Third Presbyterian Church, (Rev. F. A. Noble). The attendance was large and the exercises interesting. After the opening services Mr. H. K. Porter read the annual report showing an encouraging progress in the work during the past year. An able address was delivered by Rev. F. A. Noble, in which he made an eloquent appeal for the support and encouragement of the Association. After receiving a liberal contribution from the congregation, the Association adjourned.

Seriously Injured.

A serious disturbance occurred at a late hour Saturday night at the Green Tree tavern, on Liberty street near Thirteenth, in which the proprietor of the house, Henry Theeler, was very badly injured. It seems that two men named Thomas Dunn and David Jones came to the house and demanded something to drink and refused to pay for it. This caused the disturbance, which ended in the two men beating Theeler over the head with beer glasses, bottles, &c. An information was subsequently made before Alderman Taylor against Dunn and Jones, charging them with felonious assault and battery, and warrants were issued for their arrest.

The Morgan Lectures.

Rev. Henry Morgan, of Morgan Chapel, Boston, is to deliver a course of six of his popular lectures in the Academy of Music in this city, opening with "Fast Young Men," Monday evening, February 17th. Mr. Morgan's success upon the platform has been wonderful. He has crowded Boston Music Hall (this is one of the largest halls in the country, and containing the great organ) many times. Indeed, so popular is "Fast Young Men" that he had repeated it more than thirty times in Boston alone—one of the last being at the request of dry goods merchants for the benefit of their clerks. Mr. Morgan has a chapel debt of $10,000 that he expects to pay by his lectures.

The Miners' Screene Bill.

The Pittsburgh Coal Exchange and the Railroad Coal Producers Exchange met in joint session on Saturday, to take some measures for the opposition of the "Miners' Screene Bill." A committee was appointed consisting of Messrs. J. F. Dravo, Joseph Walton, Col. Schoonmaker, Capt. M. Bailey and Robt. Cornell, on behalf of the Pittsburgh Exchange, and Messrs. Alex. Gordon, Robt. Dickson, Chas. Armstrong, E. C. Negley and Wm. A. McIntosh, on behalf of the Railroad Coal Producers Exchange, to visit Harrisburg in opposition to the bill. The committee will meet on Saturday for consultation. It is alleged that if the bill passes, the price of coal will be increased one cent. per bushel.

Coal Miners in Council.

On Saturday a meeting of coal miners, representing about thirty pits in this vicinity, held a meeting in Stahly's Hall. The meeting was called to order by the selection of Mr. Thomas Watkins as presiding officer, who stated the object of the meeting to be the consideration of the Miners' Screen bill, now pending before the Legislature. Mr. E. S. Boyle, the Secretary, read a letter from Senator Humphreys, in which he promised to use his influence in the passage of the law. The following gentlemen were nominated as Representatives to Harrisburg: George Archibald, David Boden, William Woolslayer, Walter J. Reed, A. Winters and A. Steiner. All these gentlemen decline but Messrs. Boden and Woolslayer, it was determined to ballot for one, which resulted in the election of Mr. Boden.

Removal—Increased Facilities.

Patrons of the well-known Pittsburgh Boot and Shoe House of Messrs. Gill & Bro. should make an especial note of the removal of the firm from their old stand on Wood street to that elegant iron front, four storied building, No. 253 Liberty street, five doors above the head of Wood street. The removal was rendered necessary by the demands of an increasing trade, and buyers will now find every facility for their accommodation at the new house. The firm of Gill & Bro. is so well known in the wholesale boot and shoe trade that any special words of commendation would be entirely supererogatory. They sell as low as the very lowest, offer every reasonable advantage to purchasers, and are in every respect square in their dealings. Just now they are receiving their spring stock, which has never been excelled in the city, and which purchasers will find especially attractive from which to make selections.

Pennsylvania Iron Works.

One of the oldest and most widely known of our manufacturing institutions is the Pennsylvania Iron Works, now owned and operated by Messrs. Everson, Graff & Macrum. There is manufactured at this works every description of sheet and bar iron, flat, bar, round, square, band, hoop, tank and boiler iron, together with fine and common iron of every description. The "Pennsylvania's" brand is not excelled by any other in the market, and no other manufacture of the kind is regarded with greater favor in the trade and among iron workers. Messrs. Everson, Graff & Macrum, make it a point to get the best skilled labor they can command, and by the use of the very best of material, produce an article that will stand the most rigid test. The works also are very large; and all orders can thus be filled at the shortest notice. Their office and works are on Second avenue, just above the upper Monongahela bridge, where all orders should be sent.

Dr. Arthurs' Case.

Saturday morning the case of Dr. Addison Arthurs against the Guardians of the Poor of the city came up for a hearing upon the petition from the former for a writ of mandamus against the Board. The Doctor's petition rehearsed the facts in the case, that he was elected by Councils a member of the Board, but that they refused to admit him: The answer of the Board was that the petitioner had been elected and did present himself for admission, but that they, knew him to be a member of the Board of Health, which membership, so long as held, debarred him from membership in the Board of Guardians, and they accordingly postponed action until a subsequent meeting, requesting the petitioner at the same time to present evidence that he was not a member of the Board of Health.

The Court, after hearing the argument in the case, refused the petition and dismissed the case at the cost of the petitioner. It is said that the case will be carried to the Supreme Court.

Sunday Morning at the Lock-Up.

Forty-one common cases greeted the Mayor at the morning hearing yesterday, though His Honor seemed in a peculiarly good humor, judging from the number whom he released on payment of a small fine or discharged altogether, with a word of good advice. Eight of them, however, were turned over to the tender mercies of Warden Scandret, for different periods. Ed. Johnston, for drunkenness and vagrancy, and Jerry McCune, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, were retired for sixty days each. Richard Fewer and Peter Krenman, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct, were committed for twenty days each. Chas. Thompson, colored, forced an entrance into a house on Wylie street, against the expressed wishes of the occupants—thirty days. John Robinson and John Dunkin were found fighting in a saloon on Grant street. Officer Cox brought them to the bar of justice, and His Honor committed them for thirty days each.

Remarkable Strength of Boiler Plates.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

On Thursday, February 6th, Messrs. Brown & Co., of the Wayne Iron Works, in this city, tested some three pieces of their brand of boiler plate, styled U. S., and of full ¼ inch in thickness. The pieces selected were from plates blistered in rolling, which had been laid to one side:

The first piece stood 84,000 to the square inch.
The second " " 78,000 " " "
The third " " 76,000 " " "

Showing the mean tensile strength to be 79,333.

This iron, owing to its great strength, is fast coming into use for steam boilers, and we are glad to note the fact that our mills, noted for their fine grades of iron, are fully keeping up the reputation which Pittsburgh has so justly earned of being the Iron City. I mention these tests because in my search for a superior quality I desired it to be made, and was personally cognizant of the fairness of the test, and for the further reason that in these days of disastrous explosions it is of public interest to know where a very high grade of tensile strength of boiler iron is manufactured.

TENSILE.

A "Test" Case.

The report in the evening papers of Saturday that another attempt had been made on Friday night by burglars, to enter Mr. Wm. Semple's dry goods store in Allegheny, was somewhat incorrect as to the main facts. It seems that Chief Clark has had occasion recently to test the efficiency of several "night watchmen" in stores in our sister city,—not being impelled to do so by the proprietors, but for his own knowledge. The police force of Allegheny, it is contended, is so small, and the men scattered over so much territory that it is impossible to give full protection everywhere, and much depends upon the efficiency of private watchmen. The officer in charge at Mr. Semple's, came in for his turn on Friday night, when the Chief with another officer, called at the store and placed a "burglars fuse" through the key-hole of the rear door and applied a match to it; the same plan was also tried with the front door, and in both instances the watchman was alarmed—so much so it is alleged, that when he called for assistance and the officers came, they were allowed free entrance into the store, which is against the regulations of the establishment. He never understood the grim joke that was thus played upon him, and possibly does not know it yet; probably if told it was a joke, he would still fail to appreciate its intensity of humor.

Information is wanted at this office of one Samuel Rozenburg, who was proprietor of the Luke house at Stonebora last season. It is supposed he is now in Baltimore. Address GAZETTE OFFICE, Pittsburgh, Pa.

BREVITIES.

....The change in yesterday's atmosphere was decidedly unpleasant.

....A regular meeting of Councils will be held to-day at the usual hour.

....In a double-leaded editorial an evening paper recklessly asserts "Delightful weather at this writing."

....Our places of amusement were never so well patronized as now. Why so? Is money more plentiful than usual.

....Dr. James A. Duncan has been elected President of the Commercial Hall Association, vice J. M. Gazzam, resigned.

....Snyder, who was shot at Brushton last week for an attempted burglary, is still living, though in a very critical condition.

....Samuel Maxwell lost a thumb on Saturday while at work at a circular saw at Maxwell, Wood & Anderson's mill, in Allegheny.

....The Central Board of Education will meet to-morrow afternoon at their new rooms, No. 81 Fourth avenue, for the purpose of organizing for 1873.

....On Saturday Messrs. Jones & Laughlins, of the American Iron Works, paid their operatives two weeks wages, aggregating about $100,000.

....Lectures are being delivered on the South Side on "Civilization." One might suppose that after consolidation such measures would be unnecessary.

....On Saturday afternoon, at a meeting of the Directors of the Central Passenger Railway, Mr. A. J. Hagan was elected Superintendent, vice Mr. S. M. Herron, resigned.

....The Chicago Express east was detained nearly four hours on Saturday by the breaking of a truck of one of the Pullman sleepers. It was seen in time to avert a serious accident.

....The Boston Post says that "a Pittsburgh father presented his daughter with two loaded coal barges for her wedding present." That's so. It was a present of more utility than diamonds.

....Three overcoats were stolen from the boarding house No. 165 Lacock street, Allegheny, on Saturday evening. No clue to the thieves.

....In event of a war with Spain many will learn to walk Spanish, but after the lesson there will be no more such pedestrian business in this world, as pretty Spain will be very apt to go under.

....The draft of an act making the officers of the Work House elective by the people instead of being appointed by the Board of Prison Inspectors, has been forwarded from here to Harrisburg.

....A slight fire occurred at the Safe Works of Messrs. Reisick & Bros., on Sixteenth street, on Saturday morning, originating in a kettle of pitch. The flames were extinguished with but small loss.

....A woman that was taken to the station house on Friday night in a drunken condition was found on Saturday morning to be suffering from a broken leg. She was attended by Dr. McCoy, and afterwards removed to Mercy Hospital.

....Yesterday morning about two o'clock, Officer George Kirchner, while patroling his beat on Spring Garden avenue, Allegheny, slipped and fell, breaking his left leg above the ankle. He was taken to his house and a physician summoned.

....On Saturday evening a brakeman on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad, named Joseph Dye while coupling cars near the outer depot had three of his fingers badly crushed by being caught between the bumpers. He was attended to by Dr. Buchanan.

....The Orphean Quartette Club will give a free musical concert this evening at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, to which all persons are invited. Their concerts are always well attended, and we have no doubt they will have a full houses

....The large audience at Library Hall on Saturday afternoon, demonstrated that lecture matinees would prove decidedly popular and successful. Mr. Gough advocated the total abstinance phase of the temperance movement with his characteristic vigor and freshness.

....The recent accident at Jones & Laughlin's mill and its twin companion near Philadelphia, have started the editors throughout the country on the sen. periodic philosophical articles on the theory of boiler explosions. We confess that we fail to see anything fresh advanced by any of them to prevent such accidents.

....The congregation of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church, Sixth avenue, (Rev. E. Ke Squier pastor) have enjoyed meetings of more than usual interest during the past week. Quite a number united with the church yesterday upon a profession of religion. The meetings will be continued during the evenings of the present week.

....In the early part of this week Messrs. Torley, Wilson, McElroy and Pitcairn, of the Fire Commission, will leave for New York to negotiate for four new steam fire engines for the fire department of this city. The engines are intended for East Liberty and the South Side. It is probable that Assistant Engineer Hamill will accompany the Commissioners.

....A meeting of the Law Students' Association was held in the Court of Common Pleas room, on Saturday night, and the following officers chosen for the ensuing term: President, James W. Collins; Vice President, T. J. O'Keefe; Secretary, John A. Fox; Treasurer, S. S. Milligan; Executive Committee, Messrs. Powers, Myers and Booth. On Wednesday evening a moot court will be held, when a breach of promise case will be argued before a jury selected from the audience.

....On Saturday the South Side Fire Department was given over into the hands of the Fire Commission of this city. The fuel wagon, with supplies for the Mechanics' and Walton Hose Companies arrived there at the time stated. Stalls have been fitted up in each of the engine houses for the horses, and sleeping accommodations have been provided for the men on the second floor. The Mechanics' company is in charge of Robt. Watt as foreman, while the Walton is temporarily commanded by J. C. Donnelly.

....On Friday night some miscreant entered the residence of Mrs. Crown, in Steubenville, with evident burglarous intent. He succeeded in effecting an entrance at the door, and by quietly removing chairs and tables from his way, had made every preparation for successful flight if discovered. At the door of one of the rooms he was met by a dog which sprang at him, but the bold scoundrel succeeded in catching it by the throat and strangling the faithful animal to death, it being found dead on the floor in the morning. In passing forward again he made some noise, awakening the family, when he instantly fled.

....The announcement of the sudden death of ex-Governor John W. Geary created a profound sensation in this community on Saturday. In October last the writer hereof in a conversation with him at Greensburg, was startled by his announcement that he was looking after his land interests in Westmoreland county, as he had a presentment that he might drop suddenly out of life in the near future, and desired to have all his affairs in good order. From his great physical strength, vigor, vitality and correct system of living, we inwardly laughed at the idea, but it seems that whispering angels were at his ears with their warnings to him to prepare for the great transition from this life to the eternal one beyond.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

BEFORE Alderman Smith of Allegheny Charles Albrich is charged with the larceny of sixteen dollars from a trunk by Joseph Lescouskey. Warrant issued.

EDWARD CARR, John Smith and Richard Barlow, were each retired to the work house for thirty days by Mayor Blackmore yesterday.

PATRICK DOUGHERTY and John and James McGinley are charged by John Knight, before Deputy Mayor Nichols, with assault and battery. Warrants issued.

CORNELIUS O'BRIEN, by his wife Catharine, is charged, before Alderman Strain, with an assault upon her with a chair. He was arrested and committed for trial.

JAMES W. NICHOLS, before Alderman McMasters, is charged with the embezzlement of $222, which he collected. James Ruffly is the complainant. Warrant issued.

SAMUEL WRIGHT was committed to jail in default of $400 bail, on a charge of Mary Ann Casey, for aggravated assault and battery, by Alderman Thomas on Saturday.

MARY PAINE, before Alderman Moreland, charges her husband, Robert Paine, with abandonment and desertion. She alleges he has not supported her for ten months. Arrested and held for a hearing.

CHAS. CLEMENT, (no relation to Mark Twain) goes to Claremont for sixty, Alex. Clark and H. Brown for thirty days each for too much whisky imbibations and disorderly conduct. Allegheny city sends them.

ELLEN WITLER charges Catharine Smoker with surety of the peace, in threatening to cut out her heart and liver. She made the complaint before Alderman McMasters. The Smoker was arrested and gave bail for court.

PERSONAL.

Among the guests at the Union Depot Hotel is Mr. George P. Smith, formerly an extensive dry goods jobbing merchant of this city. Mr. Smith retired from business several years ago, and has since resided partly in Philadelphia and partly in New York. He has however resided for the last few months at Franklin, near which he owns considerable estates.

THE following we take from the Washington Examiner:—"Our late worthy fellow-townsman, John Grayson, Jr. Esq., has assumed the responsible position of general manager of C. Hanson Love's general fire insurance agency, No. 121 Fourth avenue, Pittsburgh. The 'Squire has had very considerable experience in the insurance business, and will, we predict, render universal satisfaction in his new position. His hosts of friends here wish him unbounded prosperity."

Temperance Meeting.

A meeting will be held in this city on Tuesday, February 11, at 10 o'clock A. M., at the Smithfield street M. E. Church, for the purpose of organizing the temperance friends, and enlisting their influence and support in favor of the proposition to incorporate prohibition in the new constitution. Steps will also be taken to secure a full vote in this county on the question of license or no license. A full attendance of the friends of temperance, whether total abstainers or not, is invited, and doubtless there will be a large meeting. Earnest and eloquent speakers will be in attendance.

Why

Does every family endorse the Singer sewing machine? Simply on account of its meeting their wants in ever sense, and doing just what they require.

R. Straw & Co., Sixth street, are happy in receiving a call from all those who may want to examine its merits.

Crowds

IN MEMORIAM.

Demise of Mr. J. McQ. Woods—Action of Trinity Vestry.

The Vestry of Trinity (Episcopal) Church, this city held a special meeting on Friday afternoon, Feb. 7, to take appropriate action in reference to the demise of Mr. John McQewan Woods, (late a member of the Vestry), when the following record was made on the minutes:

In the mysterious orderings of God's providence we are called together as members of the Vestry of Trinity Church, Pittsburgh, to give expression to our sorrow at the demise of a beloved associate in office.

John McQewan Woods, departed this life on Friday morning, February 7, 1873, and thus for the second time in less than four months, death has visited our Vestry and diminished our number. While bowing with submission to God's will in this fresh bereavement and loss, we desire, first of all, to put on the records of the Parish an expression of the very high esteem in which our departed brother was held by us. Though among the youngest, both in years, and office, yet so faithful and conscientious was he in the discharge of every duty, that he will be missed as a counsellor and friend.

He was singularly modest and self-distrusting, but ever ready to give and do for the church which he loved, and of which he has long been a devout and constant worshipper and communicant.

We desire to thank God for the life and good example of our deceased brother. He was a very model of exactness and honesty in all his affairs, and guided himself by a keen sense of honor. The smallest variation from the path of rectitude in another was an offence to him. His name is without a stain, and remains as his best memorial in the city where his whole life has been spent.

May we, his surviving associates in office, be led by these oft-recurring bereavements to realize more fully the shortness and uncertainty of human life, and may the thought quicken our love, and make us more and more earnest in working while it is called to-day.

We offer his bereaved family our sympathy and our prayers in this hour of sorrow and loss. And especially for her who has been his partner and helper in every good work, do we pray that the consolations of the Gospel and the promises of God may be her comfort and stay.

We will attend the funeral of our deceased brother in a body, and cause a copy of this minute to be sent to his wife and entered on the records of the Parish.

From the Minutes,

H. LEE. MASON, Secretary.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—This evening Miss Maggie Mitchell commences the second week of her engagement, appearing in the play of "Fauchon," in a character which she created, and in which she has made a world-wide reputation. She will be supported by Mr. Shewell. Mr. Ellsler will also make his first appearance this season this evening. They will be supported by the entire company.

AIMS' AMERICAN THEATRE.—The Matthews Troupe and D'Atalie, M'lle Angela and the little folks will remain another week, with many strong additions.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—A new drama, "Before and after the War," is to be given this evening, besides the regular Olio entertainment.

THE YOUNG FOLKS.—At No. 51 Fifth avenue the young folks' fair continues, and much enjoyment is had there nightly.

ENGLISH OPERA.—On Saturday the English Opera Combination closed their five days' engagement at the Academy of Music, with Lucia di Lammermoor. It was the poorest acted and sung of the season. Their season here, taken in all, has proved a financial success. This evening they open at E. L. Davenport's Chestnut street Theatre, Philadelphia.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Yesterday the world-renowned Martino and his famous troupe, consisting of Miss Gertie Florence, Miss Arzena Armond, Louis E. Cooke and Mr. Charles Forbes, manager, arrived in this city. They will appear this evening in a choice and select entertainment, the most remarkable of which will be the Enchanted Canopy, Instantaneous Growth of Flowers, etc.

LIBRARY HALL.—On Tuesday evening, the 18th inst., Henry Ward Beecher, of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., will deliver a lecture on "Manhood and Money Getting." That he will have a crowded house is undoubted, as his reputation is too widely known to have any other. On Thursday, the 13th inst., the sale of seats will commence at Kleber's Music Store.

"WILL IT PAY?"—To-morrow evening Mr. Gough, whose two lectures lately delivered here have been so successful, will deliver his ever popular lecture, "Will it Pay?" at Library Hall. This lecture, although previously delivered here, has since been revised, and is now doubly interesting. This is the eleventh lecture in the "Library course," and as this may be the last opportunity to hear this distinguished elocutionist every one will take advantage of the occasion.

"THE LEGION OF HONOR."

Meeting of Mexican Veterans Saturday Evening—Resolutions of Respect to Ex-Governor Geary—Memorial Presented, Etc.

On Saturday evening the Mexican Veterans held another meeting. After the usual preliminaries, Mr. R. H. Kelley announced the death of their comrade and Ex-Governor John W. Geary. He spoke of him in eulogistic terms, and alluded to his record in the war with Mexico, and later in the great rebellion. On motion of Mr. Kelley, a committee was appointed to prepare appropriate resolutions, expressive of the feelings of this meeting. The committee was appointed, and reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God, in his inscrutable providence, to suddenly call from earth our comrade in arms in Mexico, ex-Governor John W. Geary; and

WHEREAS, In consequence of the melancholy event the duty devolves upon us who knew him well, and were eye-witnesses of his manly bearing, cool courage and admirable qualifications as a commander, to bear our testimony to his courage as a soldier and kindness as a man; therefore be it

Resolved, That we have learned with profound regret of the sudden death of our comrade in arms, John W. Geary, in whose taking off we have additional evidence that our ranks are fast being depleted by death, and that ere long not one will be left to recount the deeds of heroism and suffering during a campaign that challenges a parallel in the annals of either ancient or modern warfare.

Resolved, That in the death of ex-Governor Geary, the nations loses an able statesmen, an efficiently military commander, and the soldier a warm and true-hearted friend.

Resolved, That we tender the bereaved family our heart-felt sympathy in their sad affliction.

Resolved, That these resolutions be engrossed upon the minutes of the meeting and a copy sent to the family of the deceased.

After the above resolutions were adopted, the Committee on Memorial presented their report, a gist of which was published in Saturday's GAZETTE. It was unanimously adopted. The committee appointed on permanent organization reported the following officers: W. S. Matthews, President; W. J. Barker, Vice President; R. H. Kelly, Secretary; Maurice Wallace, Treasurer, and F. H. Cooley, Corresponding Secretary. Mr. Barker moved that the meeting resolve itself into an association to be known as "The Scott Legion." It was put standing and unanimously carried. After some other business, a vote of thanks were tendered to the city press for notice of the proceedings. Adjourned to meet on Wednesday evening, when it is expected the memorial will be ready to forward to Washington.

Importance of the Reading Room and Library in the United States Army.

It will be admitted by every thinking mind, that nothing can be more important, or more absolutely necessary at each military station where soldiers are congregated, than some means of employing profitably their vacant hours. To occupy or seem to amuse the great multitude, may well be regarded by the philanthropist, the statesman and the moralist, as of transcendent importance. All history teaches this lesson. The soldiers when not engaged in the drill and its duties, are at a loss to know how to employ their leisure hours. A library and reading room is, therefore, a powerful means of preserving order and morality, and keeping the men from contracting ruinous habits, not to speak of the weary hours softened and cheered by such means.

The U. S. Military Post Library Association is organized for the purpose of assisting in the establishment of libraries and reading-rooms at all the posts and stations of the U. S. Army. The 279 posts have, within the past year, been furnished with christian and secular literature. The following are the officers of the Association:

President, James C. Holden, Vice Presidents, President Grant, Generals Sherman, Hancock, Pope and Howard, U. S. A., George Stewart, Robert Hoe, William H. Aspinwall and Jay Cooke, Esqs., Hon. William E. Dodge and Hon. Edward S. Tobey, Nathan Bishop, L. L. D., John S. Newbery, L. L. D., Generals Burnside and Fisk.

John B. Ketchum, Secretary 58 Broadway, New York, Robert Hoe, Treasurer, 31 Gold street New York.

Says General O. O. Howard, in writing to the Secretary: "The work in which you are engaged is a most important and necessary one, and is filling a gap which has long existed. I have felt deeply the need of some way to bring it about. You have my best wishes for complete success, and may command me in any way in which I can be of service to you."

Rev. Mr. Day, financial agent of the Association, who is now in this city, respectfully solicits the co operation of its citizens.

WHAT TIME HAS TAUGHT US.

It has taken two thousand years to teach the world that to sustain the body in its conflict with disease, not to help disease by weakening the body, is the true end of medicine. We have the lesson by heart at last, however. We know, for example, that tearing doses, of aloes, salts, jalap, croton oil, calomel, colocynth, &c., are the best allies that a debilitating malady can have in its assaults on the human frame; and that a medicine like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which strengthens all the bodily powers and rallies sinking constitutions, is the most powerful antagonist of the morbific principle, whatever it may be, that lies at the root of the complaint. This knowledge has been a long time in reaching us, but it is invaluable. We can now control and cure dyspepsia, bilious disturbances, constipation, rheumatism, nervousness, and many other painful complaints once considered incurable, with this admirable corrective.

A CERTIFICATE DEALER HEARD FROM.

Continuing His Business in Zanesville.

About three weeks ago a man named Foster presented at a city bank a draft for one thousand dollars, a part of which amount he drew in cash and the remainder in a certificate of deposit. After making an unsuccessful attempt at one store to purchase some jewelry with the certificate, he succeeded at another. When the fraud was suspected he was pursued, but made his escape. Two or three days ago Chief Irwin received a dispatch from Zanesville stating that a man had been operating similarly there, and the description led to the belief that the Zanesville swindler was the identical Foster. The telegram stated that the operator would pass through Pittsburgh, and asked for his arrest. The message, through some means, was delayed, and the train which is supposed to have carried Foster had passed through several hours previous. On Saturday A. M. Huston, President of the Union Bank at Zanesville, arrived in the city, and from his statements it seems that Foster, or W. H. Parker, as he now calls himself, went to Muncie, Indiana, where he sold his $400 draft. Then he went to Zanesville, where he expressed a wish to buy a mill and farm, and worked himself into the confidence of the officers of one bank. He told them he had purchased, and presented them a draft drawn on Jay Cooke & Co., of New York, by the Farmers and Mechanics Bank of Reading, Pa., for $1,000, which was cashed.

He also sold his certificate of deposit obtained in this city for $500. At the Union Bank he deposited $500 and a draft for like amount, obtaining a certificate of deposit. Subsequently he drew out his money, and departed, with the certificate of deposit.

ENQUIRE OF
John A. Carothers,
108 FOURTH AVENUE,
PITTSBURGH, PA.

FOR SALE.
100 Quarter and Half-Acre
LOTS,
ALSO, THE FARM HOUSE AND BARN,
With 1½ acres of ground, and about 400 bearing Fruit Trees; also a Farm of 125 acres, adjoining the above Lots, with about twelve acres of Coal. All of the above within from five to ten minutes' walk from Walls Station, P. R. R. This property will be sold on easy terms. Plans can be seen at my office. This property offers better inducements for speculation than any property offered on the Pa. R. R., on account of its close proximity to the contemplated improvements of the P. R. R. Co. Inquire of
